IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC.

THE TRUTH SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

The following appeared in the New-York Express:

SCIENCE, SKILL AND GREAT EXPERIENCE CAN DO MUCH TO RESTORE A SHATTERED BODY.

Another very serious case has just come before our notice, to which we beg to draw public attention. Mr. Gardner, a gentleman well known and highly esteemed, of Fulton, Fulton County, N. Y., has been wasting literally away for the last few years, from Catarrhal Consumption, which produced complete deafness. He himself, as well as his wife, stated that for the last ten years, he had not been able to keep a morsel of food on his stomach, nor to enjoy a single complete night's rest. Perspiration continually stood on his body, as if he were in a vapor bath, being feverish, alternating with a slight chill, characterized by pain in the right side, extending to the point of the shoulder; also a sharp pain of the cellar-bone, pain on the right side, particularly causing an uneasy sensation when lying on it, as well as a difficulty in respirating, felt great thirst, his tongue was dry and covered with a white fur; great giddiness and swimming in his head—in fact he complained of general weakness and disliked movement or exercise, great headache, flatulence, belching, with acid taste in the mouth and throat; he complained of a constant oppression of fullness, and at last his mind showed symptoms of being affected. He also labored under almost complete deafness, and existence became to him a torture. He felt himself wasting away with weakness. As a matter of course, he consulted many physicians of repute, both general practitioners and those practicing specialties, and still he continued to sink; and, as his wife says, after reading the case of consumption in our columns, she and their friends concluded that they could do no better than to apply to the same eminent physician, Dr. Von Eisenberg, one of our practitioners, whose heart is devoted to the cause of suffering humanity. As all hopes of Mr. Gardner's recovery had been given up, there being but little risk, and as a last resource, the husband, wife and friends came to New-York, and called at the Doctor's office, No. 816 Broadway. So much was his nervous system affected, that when he was placed in the examination chair, his countenance seemed to change. A convulsive spasm passed over it, and in a minute or so he seemed to recover, and exclaimed, "Oh, Doctor, you hurt me very much!" although all this time the Doctor had not approached him. After a careful diagnosis with Dr. Von Eisenberg's usual skill and experience, and after an attentive and patient examination of the history and existing symptoms, the Doctor gave it as his opinion that Mr. Gardner had been suffering from laryngeal phthisis, complicated with dry catarrh; that his deafness arose from the disordered condition of the throat, and in the sympathetic condition between the nerves of the throat and those of the auditory organ. By a minute auscultatory examination of the lungs and larynx, he said that pulmonary phthisis may be present, with the usual exciting causes of inflammation and its consequences. Extending to the digestive organs by sympathy and continuity from the pulmonary and digestive mucous surface furnishes many indications, giving rise to heart-burn and acrid eructations, which produce profuse sweating, cough, purulent expectorations. This complication commenced with a dyspeptic character, assuming a severe form, and has been attended by nausea, pain, tenderness, a sense of heat, or burning pain. In fact the Doctor said that in such complicated cases, the commonest catarrh generally appears under a more febrile form, and when it unfortunately affects one of a consumptive tendency, it is the exciting cause of a galloping decay. A failure of health and strength has been gradually coming on with a loss of appetite.

After candidly giving his opinion of Mr. Gardner's case, Dr. Von Eisenberg immediately declined to undertake it, piqued perhaps that an individual in the very last stage of consumption should only then seek his aid, after all others had failed—besides really seeing himself that Mr. Gardner had but little chance of recovery. Mrs. Gardner entreated the Doctor to undertake the treatment of her husband, convinced as she said she was, that at least he might receive temporary relief at his hands; this being joined with the warm solicitations of the poor patient himself, Dr. Von Eisenberg yielded, and resolved to do all in his power to alleviate the sufferings of a fellow creature.

He thereupon gave his entire attention to the lamentable case. The first subject which suggested itself to the Doctor was the consideration of using the best means to restore the sense of hearing which he thought must naturally depress Mr. Gardner's spirits by the gloom which deafness always throws over the mind. Wonderful to relate, by a single application of the Doctor's Æthetico-Neuralgicon, Mr. Gardner actually heard not only the Doctor's voice but the distant rumbling of the traffic in the streets. He seemed to feel a new joy, and for the first time for several years, his face became illumined with a grateful smile which seemed like a gleam of sunshine. From that time the Doctor used every energy to restore his patient to perfect health. The success now came which was so soon to reward his earnest efforts and establish the fact which it gives us the greatest pleasure and satisfaction to publish, that Dr. Von Eisenberg had thus with infinite skill combatted and conquered one of the most difficult and complicated cases that ever came under the treatment of any physician.

It is needless to dwell upon the treatment of this case. Suffice it to say, that in a month from the time of Dr. Von Eisenberg's undertaking the case, Mr. Gardner returned an entirely changed man, and enjoying great health and pleasant spirits. He came to thank the Doctor for his unremitting attention, and repeated over and over again how to his treatment he should ever be indebted for his new life, as he called it. But we will say no more, and can but observe in the words of another, "There is the subject, let him speak for himself."

AFFAIRS IN UTAH.

AN INSIDE VIEW OF MATTERS.

Interesting Facts About United States Officials.

The Mormons Preparing to Resist the National Authorities.

How Brigham Young Controls Political Affairs.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

Salt Lake City, Utah Territory,
Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1865.

So many travelers have recently given their impressions of this region and its inhabitants to the reading public, that I may well be excused from giving mine. At the same time I must say, that the tourist visits few places where more undefined impressions and emotions rush upon him than here, as he feels that his feet stand in modern Zion, in the valley of Great Salt Lake—the land of the Latter Day Saints—the land of many wives and many children—the land of the vine and varied fruit—the land where the beehive is truly the symbol of industry, that in no other land is surpassed nor equaled—the land of frugality and plenty—the land of obedience, temperance and order—the land where Democracy and Republicanism are not known—the land of the one-man power.

I do not propose to descant upon the various subjects named above, in your columns, except, perhaps, the last two items, incidentally. I have been in this Territory about four weeks, and propose to speak of matters I have learned in Utah that appertain to the general welfare. I must, of course, mention that feature peculiar to this Territory, which exists nowhere else in the Christian world—polygamy.

THREE GOVERNMENTS IN UTAH,

There are three governments in Utah, each of which extends over the whole Territory, in form, if not in fact—the Territorial Government, organized by virtue of the organic act of Congress; the government of the so-called State of Deseret, of which Brigham Young is Governor; and the government of the Church, of which Brigham Young is First President, the anointed of the Lord, and the supreme head. The Church confines its control, not to things eternal and celestial, but extends to all the relations of life and business; to family affairs, and to the fixing of the price of commodities for sale. Nothing is beneath its care, and nothing is above its power. This Church has larger and more positive powers than were ever claimed by the Church of Rome in the dark ages.

So far as relates to power, it has, by irrevocable revelation, been placed in the hand of one man, the Lord's anointed. The Territorial Government is a fiction; it is without vitality and power. None but Mormons are sent to the Legislature. If the Governor vetoes laws passed, the Legislature of the State of Deseret can pass them, and Gov. Young gives them his sanction, and they are laws for the State, when they failed to be so for the Territory. The laws of the State of Deseret are not published, but kept among the secret archives.

A Territorial Supreme Court was an inconvenient thing, until the ingenuity or inspiration of the anointed, aided by the flexible morality of a Democratic Governor, surmounted the inconvenience, when the shackles of the law fell from every man in the Territory. A court of paramount jurisdiction, called the Probate Court, was established by Territorial legislation, and Congress has never interfered with it. This court and its juries can be trusted, and the Supreme Court is without business.

POLYGAMISTS APPOINTED TO FEDERAL OFFICES.

The kindness of the government to this Territory and its people is proverbial. A long time ago it appointed a Mormon by the name of Stout District-Attorney. He has never presented himself before the court or before any Judge thereof. If the man had a good excuse for not coming, when he had married a wife, this Mr. Stout has six good excuses, as he has six wives. He may have thought Judge Titus might take it into his head to charge the Grand Jury on the act of Congress of 1862 relating to polygamy. He showed his shrewedness by staying away and not appointing a substitute, as the court has no power to appoint a prosecutor in his stead, and, therefore, no criminals can be prosecuted in the Supreme or District Courts of the Territory.

The government has here a Collector of Internal Revenue for the Territory, in the person of a Mr. Burton, a belligerent Mormon and confidant of Brigham Young. Under him, (B. Y.,) he holds the following offices: Sheriff of Salt Lake County, Assessor and Collector of the County and Territory, Member of the City Council and Adjutant-General of all the forces of the Church and the State of Deseret. All of these offices are of great importance, and comprise more powers than your room will allow for explanation. He has six offices; he has six wives.

Mr. Little, another of Brigham's confidants, is Assessor of United States Internal Revenue. He is also Counsel of the Board of Bishops, Colonel in Brigham's army and member of the City Council. He has four offices; he has four wives.

Mr. McKane is Assistant Collector under Burton, holds an office in Brigham's military system, and has three wives.

Mr. Simmons is Assistant Assessor under Little; is an actor in the theatre belonging to the Church or Brigham Young, and has three wives.

All these government officials, including Mr. Stout, the District Attorney, hold military offices under Brigham Young, and for a long time have been actively engaged in the business of arming and drilling the forces of the Church of Latter Day Saints for the great battle of Armageddon. This force is headed by an Englishman, an enemy of the United States, Gen. Ross. His duty is designated by the title of his office—Drill-Master-General of all the militia of the Church and the State of Deseret.

THE SALT LAKE CITY POSTMASTER.

I now will speak of the most important United States official incumbent in the Territory—the Postmaster of Salt Lake City. Mr. Stenhouse, an Englishman, is the man. He went through the forms of naturalization after his appointment as Postmaster before a court that has no jurisdiction to naturalize. Like the other United States officials I have named, he has prosecuted the first duty of a man in Deseret, raising families. He has but two wives. By the first he has eight children, by the second, one. He took his second wife after he had taken the oath to support the constitution and laws of the United States, and long after the passage of the act of Congress prohibiting polygamy. For a long time he denied his second marriage. But after about nine months and the declaration of the first matrimonial dividend, denial was changed into admission. Such dividends are sometimes stubborn but noisy little things.

HOW THE INTERNAL REVENUE IS COLLECTED.

I wish to say something about the collection of internal revenue—that little matter in which most people in the United States take an interest, about these days. Are the revenues fairly assessed and collected in this Territory? I cannot answer; but I can draw an inference and make a guess. The population of Utah is estimated by Brigham Young at over 100,000 souls. Prosperity has prevailed during 1864 and 1865, thus far, to an unusual degree. A few Sundays since, one of the preachers in the great Tabernacle here said: "The fact, brethren, is, all of our people are fast becoming rich." He had just returned from a tour through the Territory, and spoke from personal observation. One man, a merchant in this city, last year cleared over $400,000, and all the merchants were correspondingly prosperous. All of this people are compelled to pay into the hand of Brigham Young a tithe of all they earn, grow, make or have. This tithe, in the gross, must be immense. From all the settled parts of the Territory may be seen continually, in the day time, passing through the big gateway in his high and massive wall, wagons loaded with various products for the capacious barns and granaries of the "Lord's Anointed." The products of this Territory are too various to be enumerated here; one item this year will be over 100,000 pounds of cotton. This tithe received by Brigham Young must be income. Is it assessed properly and the assessment collected? I guess not. The amount assessed for the whole Territory, to be collected, is about $38,000. The Territory of Colorado last year paid into the Treasury of the United States over $100,000, and this year it will pay over $90,000, and these have been years of disaster to Colorado. I obtained these facts from Mr. Brown, the Collector of that Territory. Colorado is not half as old a Territory as Utah, and no man claims for it a population of over 20,000. I now leave the question to be answered by others as to whether or not the revenue is properly collected in Utah.

BRIGHAM YOUNG VS. A LIQUOR-SELLER.

In one of Brigham's sermons he said: "The man that sells liquor, and thinks to escape damnation, fools himself." He has, however, changed his sentiments on this subject, and has determined to save the whole class of liquor-vendors from so hard a fate, by taking the damnation upon himself alone. He has forbidden all to sell, and has opened a bar himself, the only bar in Salt Lake City. He claims and exercises the sole right to sell liquor by wholesale or retail.

Notwithstanding the risk of being too long, I will say a few things plainly. I know their truth.

PREPARING FOR RESISTANCE TO THE GOVERNMENT.

This people, under the advice of their leaders, are preparing for resistance, even to war, against any interference with what they call their religious faith. They anticipate no interference, except from the United States. The burden of their speeches and sermons everywhere is to arm for the coming contest. They are arming. Brigham Young has just returned after a tour of four weeks with his military staff and speech-makers. I have carefully perused the letters written from this expedition and published in their paper here, giving accounts of speeches and military drills and reviews. These only confirm what I have heard myself from Brigham Young, Heber C. Kimball and others. War, open or concealed, their voices alike do not dissuade.

Their faith, as appears from all they say, and all they act, is reduced to but one item—polygamy. This is the only thing they talk of fighting for, and it is the only item the leaders care a rush for.

It is my firm belief that in the Spring of 1861 South Carolina was more loyal to the Union than Utah is to-day. The character of the leaders and the followers in both have a striking resemblance. In both the first created and commanded the latter. Utah was the first to go through with the solemn farce of declaring its little self independent of the United States. This was done as long ago as August, 1857, when Brigham Young, in the Tabernacle of Latter Day Saints, in Salt Lake City, rising in the midst of his worshippers, declared, in the name of the Lord of Hosts, that the umbilical cord that united this Territory with the United States was then and there cut, and said amen! and all the congregation said amen! After this was formed the government of the so-called independent State of Deseret, with Brigham Young as its perpetual Governor. This government has never been surrendered. The so-called State of Deseret, as a community, is in open rebellion against the United States; and the people, under the command of their leaders, are in open rebellion against the laws of the United States.

AN EXAMPLE OF BRIGHAM'S DESPOTIC POWER.

In the first paragraph of this letter, I have said that this was the land where Democracy and Republicanism were not known, and that it was the land of the one-man power. I propose to prove the last statement, and by so doing, I prove the former.

During the short stay of Mr. Speaker Colfax in this city, he received a formal visit from Brigham Young, at the Salt Lake House. While they were sitting together upon the sofa, Brigham asked the following question: "Mr. Colfax, what kind of a delegate did Capt. Hooper make for us in Congress?" Mr. Colfax replied, as any man must have answered, that he knew Capt. H. while in Washington; that he was a gentleman, a business man, of courteous manners, attentive to business, and he thought he had been a good delegate for the Territory. Let it be understood that Capt. Hooper had been appointed by Brigham as a Missionary to Europe, and was making his arrangements to leave. Immediately after Mr. Colfax's reply, Brigham put his arm over Mr. Hooper's shoulder, and asked him, "Captain, how would you like to go to Congress again?" "Very much," said Capt. Hooper, "if you think me worthy." "Well, that is all right," said Brigham. This was in the presence of Messrs. Colfax, Richardson, Bross and Bowles. From that moment Capt. Hooper was looked upon as the successor of Judge Kinney, although his name had never been mentioned in that connection before. His election soon after followed, but merely as a matter of form, the voice of Brigham being the voice of God with the people. Judge Kinney, the former delegate, had endeavored to get an appropriation of $10,000 for government surveys; this was the weight that pulled him down. Brigham wanted no government surveys of lands the Lord had given to his saints. This blunder will not be repeated.

There are many other matters very important, and that should be known in the States, but space will not allow a detail of them. A future occasion will be sought, if what has been already written is given to the public. DELPHI.

The Test Oath Before a New-Orleans Court—Good Prospects for Cotton—Alabamians Going to Texas—The Habeas Corpus Question in Mobile—Sentence of a Treasury Agent for Fraud.

New-Orleans, Saturday, Nov. 25.

The test oath has been argued before the District Court here for two days. Judge Durel intimated to-day that he considered the law unconstitutional.

A Monroe (Louisiana) paper speaks encouragingly of the prospects of cotton planting in that section. Planters are disposed to give the freedmen a fair chance.

The same paper says a large number of emigrants from Alabama and the contiguous States are going to Texas.

In the United States District Court at Mobile, proceedings were had, on application of Mr. Dexter, late Treasury Agent, for a writ of habeas corpus. Gen. Woods declined to release Dexter on the ground that the writ had not been restored in Alabama. The charges allege malfeasance in office, and Dexter was held for trial by a military court. The Judge of the District Court decided that Dexter was unlawfully held, and entitled to a discharge. Mr. Dexter's counsel moved for an attachment against Woods, returnable in two weeks, which the court granted.

Thomas J. Carver, special bonded agent of the Treasury Department for Choctaw County, Alabama, tried at Mobile, by military commission, on a charge of fraud in revenue transactions, has been sentenced to pay a fine of nine thousand dollars and one year's imprisonment at hard labor in Nashville.

The New-Orleans cotton market was depressed; sales 3,000 bales; Middlings 52c.@53c. Freights on cotton to New-York 1¼c. Checks on New-York ¼ discount.

MISSISSIPPI.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S DISPATCH TO GOV. HUMPHREYS.

When the United States Troops will be Withdrawn from the State—The Requirements of the Government.

The following is the full text of the dispatch sent by the President to Gov. Humphreys, of Mississippi, the substance of which has been already published:

Washington, Nov. 17, 1865.

To B. G. Humphreys, Governor elect, Jackson, Miss.:

The troops will be withdrawn from Mississippi when, in the opinion of the government, peace and order and the civil authority have been restored and can be maintained without them. Every step will be taken while they are there to enforce strict discipline and subordination to the civil authority.

There can be no other or greater assurance given than has heretofore been on the part of the President or government. There is no concession required on the part of the people of Mississippi or the Legislature, other than a loyal compliance with the laws and Constitution of the United States, and the adoption of such measures giving protection to all freedmen or freemen, in person and property, without regard to color, as will entitle them to resume all their constitutional relations in the Federal Union.

The people of Mississippi may feel well assured that there is no disposition arbitrarily on the part of the government to dictate what action should be had; but, on the contrary, to simply and kindly advise a policy that is believed will result in restoring all the relations which should exist between the States composing the Federal Union.

It is hoped that they will feel and appreciate the suggestions herein made, for they are offered in that spirit which should pervade the bosom of all those who desire peace and harmony and a thorough restoration of the Union.

There must be confidence between the government and the States; while the government confides in the people, the people must have faith in the government. This must be mutual and reciprocal, or all that has been done will be thrown away.

ANDREW JOHNSON,
President of the United States.

AFFAIRS IN MEXICO.

State of Feeling in Mexico—Bad Faith of the French in Mercantile Transactions—General Condition of the Country.

San Francisco, Saturday, Nov. 25.

Private letters from a commercial firm at Mazatlan and other Mexican ports, received by steamer John L. Stephens, report the feeling against the French as becoming stronger and stronger every day. Large purchases of wine and other commodities, made in San Francisco during the Summer, on French account, have been rejected, by resorting to the subterfuges of short weights, inferior qualities, to the detriment of the merchants, who operated largely on the presumed good faith of the French Commissariat. Goods to the amount of $200,000, imported from Valparaiso, on account of the French in Mexico, were also repudiated, to the great disgust of the parties interested.

The general condition of the country was deplorable, and under no other government had things been in such a state of chaos. Most of the French troops had gone to the northern frontier. It was said that there would be a general rejoicing if the few hundred remaining at Mazatlan should follow. But for the action of the French authorities it was believed that there would have been a good trade with the western ports of Mexico all through the Winter; whereas everything is now depressed.

The Siege of Matamoras—Particulars of the Attempted Surprise of the Imperial Forts—Courage and Spirit of the Liberals.

Correspondence of the New-Orleans Times.

The long talked of attack on Matamoras by the Liberal army has at length been inaugurated. "War and rumors of war" fill everyone's mouth, while our pugilistic neighbors of Aztec descent are kicking up quite a rumpus opposite us. The attack was commenced by the Liberals on the evening of the 25th inst., about 5 o'clock, and for the short time it lasted was decidedly a warm affair. The Liberals have been concentrating their force in the neighborhood of the beleaguered city for some time past, and have had it virtually in a state of siege for the last two months, it being impossible for the denizens of the Heroic City to have any communication with the interior, unless through the intervention of a large force of the Imperial soldiery. Their army is under command of some of their best Generals, and has been reinforced lately by large numbers of Americans. Among the Generals now commanding Liberal troops in front are Espinosa, Cortina and Hinojosa.

It was by these officers that the Liberal force was led in the attack of the 25th; and from all accounts their courage was proved beyond a doubt. The attack was made at all points along the Imperial line, and was very near being a surprise. As it was, they took one fort, arms and caissons before the inside party had fairly awakened. This they were compelled to give up soon after, as the gunboat Paisano got their range, and gave them the benefit of a good shelling. They retired to a safe distance and then commenced a lively picket fight, which lasted about two hours. Whilst this was going on below the city, a large force was advanced on the forts above, but they were also compelled to fall back on account of the severe punishment meted out to them from the gunboat Antonia. The skirmishing lasted about two or three hours, and then everything quieted down. In the afternoon the Liberal wounded—about twenty-five in all—were brought to this side, and were being treated by Surgeon Folsom, 45th United States colored troops. None of those I saw were badly wounded. Gen. Espinosa was slightly wounded in the early part of the attack whilst leading his men in a charge.

From what I can learn the Imperial party lost pretty heavy, considering the length of time the fighting lasted. I am told by one whom I can believe that over twenty-five cart-loads of their wounded were brought in after the engagement. One thing, however, is certain: the city will not be taken without a desperate struggle on their part. The streets are all barricaded with bales of hay and cotton, and all the citizens either under arms or in the trenches, and business almost totally suspended.

There has been no fighting of any moment since the first attack, unless we can call picket firing and an occasional shell from the gunboats by that name. Yesterday the Liberals got a rifled gun or two in position and shelled the city for a short time, creating considerable excitement amongst the citizens of the Heroic City. One shell fell in the main plaza, bursting promiscuously around, and causing the numerous saloons and Jew clothing stores in that neighborhood to suspend operations rather abruptly. No lives were lost that I could learn of. No little excitement was caused on our side by a report that the gunboat Paisano had, during the fight on the 25th, fired into a party of our soldiers on the banks of the river below the city, looking on at the fighting. That they did land some shells on this side there is no doubt, but I think it is more to be laid to the crookedness of this most crooked river, than to a desire of the Paisano to kick up an emeute with the United States.

Gen. Steele has been relieved from the command of the Western District of Texas by Gen. Weitzel, commanding Twenty-fifth Army Corps. Gen. Steele is going to the Military Division of the Pacific. He was a good officer, and made many friends in the district. His successor, Gen. Weitzel, is too well-known in New-Orleans to need any introductory remarks from me. He is the "right man in the right place," and will no doubt give general satisfaction whilst in command of this district.

WHAT THE MATAMEROS PAPERS SAY.

In late numbers of the Matamoros Ranchero we find some additional particulars of the siege, but nothing of special interest which is new to our readers.

The Ranchero claims that the Liberals had been badly cut up, and says that Gens. Espinosa and Galinda were killed, and Gens. Cortinas and Hinojosa and Col. Garza wounded.

The Ranchero denies the story of an Imperial gunboat, Paisano, firing at people on the American side, but complains of the moral support which the Liberals derive from Brownsville. It also alleges that a conspiracy, thus encouraged, had been hatched to murder Mejia and surrender the city to the "outlaws."

The same paper announces the arrival of a number of transports at Vera Cruz with French troops, a part of which were to be immediately sent to Matamoras.

THE BROOKLYN MURDER

Both of the Assassins of Otero in Custody.

Two Thousand Dollars of the Missing Money Recovered.

PELLICIER MAKES A PARTIAL CONFESSION.

The Post-Mortem Examination, the Inquest and the Prisoners.

The Forty-fourth Precinct Police have, after arduous and persistent exertions, succeeded in arresting Gonzalez, the principal in the recent tragedy in Brooklyn. This arrest was made through information given by the prisoner Pellicier, whose firmness gave way during an interview on Friday with the Spanish Consul.

PELLICIER'S CONFESSION,

although not so full as might be wished, was of sufficient completeness to give the police the clue they so much desired. The facts are simply these: Mr. Cuyas, the proprietor of the Barcelona Hotel in Great Jones-street, where the murdered man was sojourning, prior to his death, and the acting Spanish Consul, Luiz Lopez de Arze, visited the Forty-fourth Precinct station-house, where the prisoner Pellicier was confined. Their object was to claim the body of Otero for interment; but Capt. Waddy informed them that the body could not be given up before Monday. Though somewhat disappointed, the Consul nevertheless acquiesced, and expressed a desire to see Pellicier, and the prisoner was accordingly taken from his dark cell in the basement up to Capt. Waddy's private room. He was at first stubborn and uncommunicative, and declined to speak of the murder, or give any positive information regarding it, or admit that he was aware of the hiding place of Gonzales. Not at all discouraged by the positive refusal of Pellicier to converse on the subject, Mr. Cuyas determined to make a last effort to move the feelings of the wretched man, painting the enormity of his crime and speaking of the grief and disgrace brought upon his (Pellicier's) family by his complicity in the crime which had sent a fellow mortal to his grave unwarned, Mr. Cuyas at length had the satisfaction of seeing the prisoner relent. While Mr. Cuyas was speaking of the prisoner's probable doom, should he be convicted of the murder of Otero, Pellicier's feeling gave way and he burst into tears. Finding him in a proper state of mind, Mr. Cuyas urged him to confess, and asked him to swear that he would answer truly all questions put to him.

Pellicier then made the necessary promise and oath, and said that he was not born in Barcelona, as had been stated, but at a village under the shadow of the mountains of Arragon, called Luforju. His name, he said, is Francisco Gibes, and Pellicier is not his real name, he having assumed the name of Pellicier shortly after coming to America. He claimed that he had not been concerned in the plot which culminated in the murder of Otero, but had been forced by the threats of Gonzalez (who seems to have had a mysterious influence over Pellicier) to become an actor in the tragedy. He added there was a third person concerned in the murder; but this part of the statement was so confused and contradictory, that it was evident to those who listened to him that this third person was a myth. His confession that he had boarded a short time at the Hotel de Cuba, in Bleecker-street, and there been visited by Gonzalez, tallied with the information which the police had already gathered, and Capt. Waddy was therefore disposed to credit his further statement concerning the and their victim on the day and night of the murder.

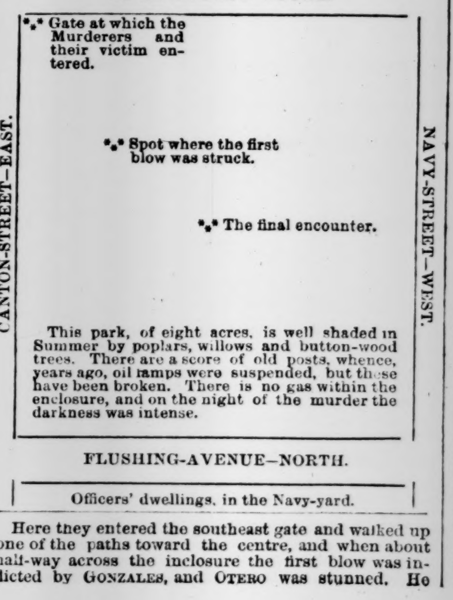
Gonzalez, whose real name is Jose Gonzalez y Fernandez, had been ejected from the Barcelona Hotel because of his general suspicious appearance and of his utter poverty; and at the time of quitting the hotel, while Otero was temporarily absent in Philadelphia, he was heard to say that he would soon have money. He had made himself obtrusively the companion of Otero, and induced that person to pay his board bill for a few days at the hotel, and during his tarry in the house he had been morose and distant, often spending nearly the whole day in the bar-room without speaking to anybody. On Otero's return from Philadelphia, on Sunday, Gonzalez fastened upon him and made him his own, and on Wednesday last accompanied him throughout the day while the purchases for Otero's new theatre at Cardenas were being made. Early on Wednesday morning Gonzalez called upon Pellicier at his hotel in Bleecker-street, and then arranged for a meeting after nightfall, informing Pellicier, of course, that it was necessary that he should be armed. After dining at the Barcelona Hotel with Otero, Gonzalez proposed an evening walk, and the proposal being accepted, Otero paid the bills, declined the landlord's offer to keep his money in the hotel safe, and the couple went out and down to Bleecker-street, where they called upon Pellicier at his hotel and summoned him thence. He accompanied them up Bleecker-street toward Broadway, and while on the way was questioned by Gonzalez as to the weapons which he had taken; and not having prepared himself for the night's work, he returned to his room and obtained his razor. The party then walked down Broadway and crossed to Brooklyn, where they took a car which bore them to

THE CITY PARK.

No fitter place for murder could have been chosen. It is remote from the busy life of Brooklyn, and a parsimonious City Government never lights it. They have a tradition in Brooklyn that the city was once lighted on moonlight nights, and it is said that this sepulchral park was once illuminated by oil; but whatever may have been the past, certain it is that now not a lamp remains on the straggling lamp-posts in the Park, there is no gas therein, and it is always dark at night. The Park is much frequented by day by citizens desiring to save an angle from one street to another; but it is seldom visited at night, its character being too well known. It has long been a resort for highwaymen; and Inspector Foulk has been powerless in the premises, his force not being sufficiently numerous to warrant the placing of two patrolmen on the post which is now covered by one. The officer who was on post on the night of the murder, had seven long blocks to guard, and at the time of the killing he may have been half a mile from the Park. The Navy-yard watchman, who guards the officers' dwellings, on the northerly side of Flushing-avenue, may have been busy in another part of the Navy-yard, and if Otero gave utterance to any cry for aid—which is most unlikely, as he is represented to have been first stunned—it could not have been heard by any official; at any rate, it was not, nor did any of the dwellers in the tenement houses that nearly surround the enclosure, hear anything indicative of murder, or assault even. We have drawn a plan of this enclosure thus:



PARK-AVENUE—SOUTH.
Gate at which the Murderers and their victim entered.
Spot where the first blow was struck.
The final encounter.
CANTON-STREET—EAST.
NAVY-STREET—WEST.
FLUSHING-AVENUE—NORTH.
Officers' dwellings, in the Navy-yard.

This park, of eight acres, is well shaded in Summer by poplars, willows and button-wood trees. There are a score of old posts, whence, years ago, oil lamps were suspended, but these have been broken. There is no gas within the enclosure, and on the night of the murder the darkness was intense.

Here they entered the southeast gate and walked up one of the paths toward the centre, and when about half-way across the inclosure the first blow was inflicted by Gonzales, and Otero was stunned. He fought instinctively, retreating, but was pursued by Gonzales and Pellicier, and was assassinated after a brief struggle in the centre of the Park.

The deed having been consummated, the murderers hurriedly rifled their victim's pockets, but found, it appears, only a small portion of his money, and took the two drafts, which covered the bulk of his fortune. Capt. Waddy, later in the evening, on removing the body to the Myrtle-avenue Police-station, found $200 in American gold in the pockets. The assassins, however, supposed that they had secured everything valuable that Otero had borne on his person; and so supposing, they hastened to the ferry, and recrossed to this city, and here, late at night, took lodgings in the German boarding-house and lager-bier saloon at No. 217 Centre-street. On Thursday morning they purchased new suits of wearing apparel, and then separated, Gonzales returning to the Centre-street German boarding-house, and Pellicier wandering through the city until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when he wended his way to the Havana steamship pier, and was there taken into custody by Roundsman Smith, of the Brooklyn Forty-fourth.

Pellicier was taken to the office of the Spanish Consul and there examined by Acting Consul Luiz Lopez de Arze, to whom he said that on the previous night he spent the evening in Broadway, between Broome and Grand streets, with a friend who was at one time book-keeper in a French boarding-house at No. 143 Eighth-street. He furthermore said that he dwelt at No. 217 Centre-street, and had a trunk at the Hotel de Cuba, No. 7 Bleecker-street. He gave his age as twenty-three, and made other statements in which he has subsequently stultified himself. After the interview with the acting Spanish Consul Pellicier was removed to Brooklyn and to the dead-house, where he was required to look upon the corpse of Otero. He shuddered, but said nothing upon being taken into the presence of the dead. From the dead-house at the Kings County Jail, the prisoner was taken to the Forty-fourth Precinct police station, and there in irons, incarcerated in a small cell in the basement. Gonzalez, meantime, tarried at the house of William Brumme, at No. 217 Centre-street, keeping himself quietly within doors, going abroad only once or twice daily, and then remaining out not more than half an hour. He manifestly intended thus to secrete himself in the heart of the city until the police had relaxed their vigilance, and then, he thought, flight would be easy. But Providence ruled that he should fall into the hands of who diligently sought him, by night and by day, from the very hour of the murder. How the body of Otero was discovered by citizens who supposed it to be that of a suicide; how Capt. Waddy and his men searched the Park and found a dagger, a razor and a pair of kid gloves cut precisely where Pellicier's fingers are cut; how they traced the murdered man to the Barcelona Hotel by a receipted board-bill, and how they ascertained that Gonzalez was probably the instigator of this foul and remarkable murder—all these facts have been detailed by the Times, and they need no repetition; but Capt. Waddy's admirable work on Saturday night has not been fully described.

The Captain selected Sergts. Smith and Ashton, and eight other policemen, and proceeded to make the necessary arrangements. Procuring a carriage, and placing Pellicier in it, securely guarded, the party proceeded on Saturday evening to the place designated by the prisoner. On reaching the intersection of Canal and Centre streets, Capt. Waddy left the carriage containing Pellicier and his guard, and proceeded to surround the premises where it was supposed Gonzales was in concealment. The Captain had serious doubts whether he should find the murderer there; but he nevertheless entered, and taking aside Brumme, the landlord, he demanded, "You have a Spaniard here who has been sick two or three days?" The landlord replied that the person in whom Capt. Waddy—who was in civilian attire—was in quest had gone from his house. At this moment, Capt. Waddy observed a young man rise from one of the three tables at which the boarders were seated partaking of their evening meal and take long strides toward the front door. A glance at his features, notwithstanding he had been shaven and metamorphosed, convinced the Captain that the young man was the very person that he wanted. He thereupon sprang to the door, seized Gonzalez, and calling Sergt. Ashton, ironed the prisoner. Searching the house, the Captain found in the room where Gonzalez had slept, the old and blood-stained clothing in which he was attired when he committed the murder, and, nicely sewed within the prisoner's coat collar, two drafts, as follows

COPIES OF THE DRAFTS.

Only a small sum of money was found in the prisoner's possession, mainly in American gold, which, according to

was paid him, on Thursday last, by Mr. Mariano Cumplido. He reiterated this story yesterday afternoon to Mr. Luiz Lopez de Arze, the acting Spanish Consul, who visited the prisoner at the Myrtle-avenue Police-station, and there took his statement. He said that on the day of the murder he was with Otero from an early hour until nightfall, and that Otero gave him the two drafts on the National Bank above for safe keeping. On the night of the murder, he adds, he spent the evening in the Louvre, and his first intimation of Otero's death was on Saturday night, when he was told by the officers of the police. In Havana he was employed as a rectifyer until, on the 18th of September last, the distillery in which he had been employed was burned to the ground, and he then took passage for New-York, hoping to find lucrative employment. On the voyage he cultivated the acquaintance of Otero, and a warm friendship naturally grew up between the two; so that at the termination of the voyage they went to the same hotel and became companions in their rambles through the city.

Gonzales is a native of Madrid, aged 35 years. He is about 5 feet 10 in stature, slim but sinewy, of swarthy countenance, and has a deep-set and sinister eye. Altogether he is precisely the man that anybody would naturally shun at night. Instead of his acting as Otero's interpreter, as report would first have it, he does not speak a word of English.

Pellicier, or Gibes, is a Spaniard, aged 23 years, and was once a waiter in the Barcelona Hotel, but was dismissed for misconduct. His general appearance is that of a weak and unintelligent person, whom any man of greater force of character, like Gonzalez, could easily dupe.

THE FUNERAL

of Otero is to take place of Tuesday afternoon, from the Jay-street Roman Catholic Church, in Brooklyn, arrangements having been made therefor, yesterday, by the acting Spanish Consul, and by Messrs. A. Cuyas, proprietor of the Barcelona Hotel, and Thomas Tolasa, Jr., of Mayaguez, Porto Rico. Cubans and others are invited to assemble at the Barcelona Hotel at 1 o'clock P. M., on Tuesday afternoon, and ride thence to Brooklyn, to attend the funeral. The corpse was turned over, yesterday, to Messrs. J. E. Smith & Son, of No. 1,000 Fulton-avenue, undertakers, and under the orders of several Cuban gentlemen a handsome coffin is to be provided. The remains are to be deposited in a receiving vault to await the orders from Otero's partner and family in Cardenas.

THE EXCITEMENT IN THE CITY PARK,

yesterday, was intense. Hundreds of church-goers crossed the inclosure on their way homeward from their respective places of worship, and when near the centre of the park they gathered in little knots near a tree that had been barked, it was said, by one of the ruffians when he made the last fatal plunge at Otero's head with his poniard. Of course this was an idle invention. But the barren, lonely, dark and forbidding park was a tangible truth that everybody could see and feel; and many were the maledictions that the visitors yesterday heaped upon the heads of the city authorities that tolerate such a place in their midst.

The Forty-fourth Precinct Police-station was besieged yesterday; but mere loungers received no attention, and only such persons as had business were admitted. Capt. Waddy and his men have worked almost incessantly from the time of the murder down to the present, and yesterday they seemed weary and worn.

THE INQUEST.

On Tuesday next the inquest on the body of the murdered man is to be commenced before the following named gentlemen, who have been empaneled as a jury:

Joseph G. Ward, No. 206 Gold-street.
Henry J. Murray, No. 153 Fulton-street.
J. R. Simmons, No. 68 Clermont-avenue.
Daniel Brown, No. 286 Fulton-street.
J. J. Haviland, No. 228 Washington-street.
A. W. Hart, No. 241 Fulton-street.
J. D. Chase, No. 203 Fulton-street.
G. A. Price, No. 185 Fulton-street.
Solomon Oakley, No. 20 High-street.

Arrest of a Burglar.—A man giving the name of William Sheridan was arrested at an early hour on Sunday morning, charged with burglariously entering McCabe's saloon, No. 239 Newark-avenue, Jersey City. The saloon did not close until after midnight, and as Mr. McCabe, who lives up stairs in the same building, was about retiring, he thought he heard some one in the saloon. After listening a few minutes he became convinced that his suspicions were correct, and proceeding cautiously down stairs he found the accused, who attempted to escape. Mr. McCabe at once grappled with the burglar and succeeded in throwing him to the floor, where he held him until the cries of the female members of Mr. McCabe's family from the windows above brought policemen Rose and McNamara to the spot, who took the accused into custody. The prisoner was held for examination, which was sent down for this morning.

LITERARY.

THE MAGAZINES FOR DECEMBER.

—The Atlantic Monthly (Boston: TICKNOR & FIELDS,) for the coming month, winds up the old year with spirit, and is a number far above the average. It commences with the first installment of a story by CHARLES READE, (which is the "leading feature" of the new sixpenny London magazine The Argosy,) entitled "Griffith Gaunt, or Jealousy." It opens well, and the continuation will be looked for with interest. "William Blackwood," by JOHN NEAL, is a capital original chapter from the literary reminiscences of one who, having seen and done much, has much to tell. "The Chimney Corner" continues to show Mrs. STOWE's excellent good sense, applied to the amelioration of the every-day troubles of life. CHARLES DICKENS' feeling notice of Miss PROCTOR is given from the new illustrated edition of her Poems. The most remarkable paper is well described in its title: "Clemency and Common Sense; a Curiosity of Literature with a Moral," by Hon. CHARLES SUMNER. In a dozen pages he painfully traces the literary history of a mediaval Latin poem, remarkable as being the source of the well known quotation: Incidis in Scyllam, cupiens evitare Charybdim, and then appends a moral on the dangers of the republic, between the Scylla of concession and compromise and the Charybdis of State Rights. The article is creditable to Mr. SUMNER's industry in a field possessing little general attraction, though it is strange that a scholar of his eminence should nod so far as to speak of "the Monastery of St. Gall in France," when referring to the famous ecclesiastical establishment in Switzerland. "The Parting of Hector and Andromache," is an Homeric translation by W. C. BRYANT, that will attract all lovers of poetry. In the "Reviews" we learn that "now Mr. HAWTHORNE is dead, America has not, perhaps a writer who is master of a more graceful prose than—HIGGINSON." (!)

—Harper's New Monthly Magazine (New-York: HARPER & BROTHERS) opens with an instructive and copiously illustrated article, "Making the Magazine," in which is given a clear and graphic account of the various industrial processes undergone by the raw material of the number before us, ere it assumes its finished shape. The completeness and perfection of Messrs. HARPERS' establishment, where, perhaps, only in this country every stage of the progress of a book is gone through in one building, gives all possible facilities for a full insight into the mechanical art and mystery of book-making, as there transacted, on a scale of vastness that has few competitors in the world. "The Natural Wealth of Virginia" refers principally to the gold-bearing regions and auriferous deposits of that State. The conclusion of DICKENS' "Mutual Friend" has become already familiar to most readers, from its previous appearance in a volume of the completed work. "Armadale" still piques the curiosity of its admirers, and as yet affords no clue for the extrication of everybody from their strange state of mutual entanglement. "A Village in Massachusetts" is a sketch partly satirical and partly affectionate of Boston. "Names of Men" reproduces some of the current learning on a subject always interesting. A poem by Miss MULOCH, "A Common Story," is noticeable as far above the ordinary range of magazine verse.

—Hours at Home, a Popular Miscellany of Religious and Useful Literature, (New-York, CHARLES SCRIBNER & Co.,) is illustrated with an engraving of the National Cemetery at Gettysburgh, accompanying a descriptive paper by Dr. J. P. THOMPSON. The design is meagre, commonplace and ungraceful, unworthy both of the object to be commemorated and the resources that a "National Monument" might command. The usual variety of excellent reading matter is given in this number, from the pens of Profs. SCHEELE DE VERE, W. WELLS, JOHN S. HART and J. B. ANGELL, Drs. J. P. THOMPSON, ELLIOT S. PORTER, E. H. GILLETT and JOSEPH ALDEN, &c., &c. Prof. ANGELL's article is an excellent summary of the life and career of Dr. FRANCIS WAYLAND, written with the full knowledge of its subject, that gives biography its chief charm and value. "One Day with SHERMAN, Coastward," graphically sketches the incidents of that wondrous march, by Major R. H. WILBUR. "France and America," by E. M. SOULE, is a careful and dispassionate survey of the relations of the two countries, and the complications that have threatened to embroil them. "Gustavus Adolphus," by Archbishop FRENCH, is a fine bird's-eye view of a momentous period of modern history. The remaining articles that we have not sufficient space to enumerate, will be found to repay careful reading.

—The United States Service Magazine, (New-York: C. B. RICHARDSON,) appears, as usual, well filled with matter interesting to the professional military man, as well as to the general reader who has often obtained an "inside view" of military matters unattainable from any other source. "Who May Kill in War, and Who May Not," is a valuable paper, elucidating a subject on which clear ideas are not usually entertained. "Seeking the Bubble," is a continuation of Lieut.-Col. IRWIN's spirited sketches of warlike adventure. "Brevet-Maj.-Gen. HUGH JUDSON KILPATRICK," narrates a career honorable to its subject and worthy of the lasting gratitude of his countrymen. "Siege of Morris Island," "The Pay Department United States Army," "The Blank Cartridge," are the chief other articles. The official intelligence is, as usual, full and reliable, and would alone make this magazine a necessity for a large and important class.

—Our Young Folks, (Boston: TICKNOR & FIELDS.) starts with a becoming expression of thanks for the well-deserved public patronage which has procured for it during the first year of the magazine's existence a circulation exceeding fifty thousand. Praise is justly claimed for the illustrations, and new features of talent are promised for the coming year. The bound volume, comprising 800 pages of choice reading and 200 engravings, cannot be surpassed as a valuable and acceptable gift for the young. Subscriptions to commence with the new year for "Our Young Folks," and Messrs. TICKNOR & FIELD's other periodicals, "The North American Review" and "The Atlantic Monthly," may by New-Yorkers be conveniently paid to their agency, No. 823 Broadway, conducted by Mr. BENJAMIN H. TICKNOR.

—The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, (New-York: W. H. BIDWELL,) presents its subscribers with a fine engraving of the Kremlin at Moscow, accompanying a literary sketch by the editor of that remarkable locality, derived from personal experience in his late European tour. The other papers are well selected, and offer a plentiful supply of instruction and amusement; their subjects are: "The Great Governing of England," "Palgrave's Arabian Travels," "Reminiscences of "Mrs. Amelia Opie," "Mad Men of Letters," &c., with the usual variety of poetry and literary intelligence.

ENGLAND AND THE FREEDMEN.

Address of Rev. Sella Martin—England's Charity Begins and Stays at Home—The Queen is Kind but Has no Money to Spare.

Rev. SELLA MARTIN, the eloquent pastor of Shiloh Presbyterian Church has recently returned from an English mission in behalf of the freedmen at the South. A large and attentive audience assembled to greet Mr. MARTIN on his reappearance in his pulpit, and, after the usual introductory services, he spoke substantially as follows:

SPEECH OF REV. SELLA MARTIN.

When I went abroad I expected to be gone three or four months, but the great interest felt there in the general Parliamentary election interfered with my purpose of holding public meetings, as all our friends were occupied with political matters. After a brief visit to Scotland and through the kindness of friends, I made the acquaintance of the favorite Chaplain of the Queen, and in his church alone contributions of $1,500 were made. I went to Balmoral and saw the Queen, who gave no money for political reasons, although she spoke kind words about the freedmen, and her Secretary, Col. PHIPPS, promised that, if possible, something should be done. In Birmingham we had an immense meeting, commencing at a breakfast in the morning; at night some 5,000 people attended and raised £1,400. At Bristol we were equally successful pecuniarily. On the 23d October I attended the Congregational Union, and through the aid of Dr. BINNEY a vote of recommendation was passed that all Congregational churches should take up a collection which must equal $50,000. England has given since 1862 something like $300,000, and this with only fitful efforts. There is now a National Freedmen's Committee, which takes the responsibility of the movement there. England has the most supreme contempt for anyone who thinks he knows as much as she. The people there said that they freed their slaves and paid for them, and wanted to know why we didn't. No reply of ours could of course satisfy them. Then England is jealous of America, in whose future [illegible] grander days than can ever be lived by her, I think the higher classes there would even now be glad if we were divided; the lower classes have feelings quite the reverse. And these jealousies were carried into our freedmen's matter. They said, "If you knew these negroes were to be freed, why didn't you prepare for their new condition?" Another difficulty was the uneradicable love of classes in England. The poor people there like it and are proud of the class distinctions. We never could get up a meeting without a figure-head, such as a Duke or a Provost or some great man like MILL or HUGHES. It wasn't always easy to do this. These difficulties will always beset our movement until England's egotism can become our champion. There's no use in talking about it; we can do no more in England; and unless we can reach the Presbyterian Church in Scotland, I think the contributions are about ended. It's by no means a fitting answer—this £60,000 to the £250,000 we sent to Ireland and the £75,000 we sent to Lancashire. It's all because we fail to get the names requisite. If the Queen would give £10, it would be worth tens of thousands of pounds. Some people say the negroes are not suffering as much as has been stated. In the great camps and districts there is a very great amount of suffering. And of all people, the colored people should not be indifferent to this state of things. In regard to negro suffrage, I want here to say that I by no means object to property or educational qualifications, provided it is demanded of all men. I feel, however, that the non-action of colored people is more a misfortune than a fault, and when we are more thoroughly informed, we shall doubtless do more, do better by our suffering brethren at the South.

A House in Washington for Gen. Grant.

When the committee having in charge the arrangements for the late reception of Gen. GRANT were in the midst of their deliberations, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, a proposition was made by one of the gentlemen that a subscription be taken up for funds wherewith to pay for the house which Gen. GRANT has recently purchased in Washington. The proposition was accompanied by a statement that the house in question, which is well located and admirably arranged, was owned by a personal friend of the Lieutenant-General's, who offered it to him for $30,000, the whole of which sum might remain on bond and mortgage, at 5 per cent., the yearly interest at that rate amounting to $1,500, which is precisely the annual rental of the establishment. The matter was discussed in the committee, and it appeared to be the opinion of a majority that Congress ought to appropriate two or three hundred thousand dollars to Gen. GRANT in acknowledgment of his services. An offer was finally made by a large dry goods merchant of $10,000 toward getting up a testimonial. Another gentleman immediately followed with an offer of $10,000. "Now," said the mover of the original proposition, "the rest of the gentlemen present will make up another $10,000 between them easily, and will give the Washington house to Gen. GRANT." The dry goods merchant would not agree to this, however. He was only willing to subscribe $10,000 if a large testimonial, amounting to two hundred thousand dollars, should be decided upon. The matter then dropped. Since the reception, Major-Gen. BUTTERFIELD has interested himself in raising the sum to buy the house, and we are informed that the subscriptions have already nearly reached the required amount.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

The Recent Twenty Mile Trot on Long Island—Death of the Winner—Challenge of the Survivor—Its Probable Acceptance.

It will be remembered that a trotting match for $2,000 of twenty miles, came off at the Fashion Course, L. I., on the 17th inst., between Mr. MULLIGAN's bay gelding, Butler, Jr., and Mr. PHYFE's black gelding Capt. Kennie, resulting in the victory of the former, in one hour and thirteen minutes—the owners of the respective horses driving them. Both were what is technically termed green road horses, neither having been trained on the track, or publicly driven on it previously. The match created considerable interest in private trotting circles at the time, and little among the habitués of the course. The match was horse against horse, and not against time, hence there was no necessity for a display of speed, or the urging of either horse beyond his natural speed. Nevertheless, the winner was extremely distressed, and died the following forenoon. The black gelding (the loser) exhibited much less fatigue, and his owner showed him to us a few days afterward, in his road wagon in New-York, looking little, if anything, the worse for his trot. Butler, Jr., was half brother to the celebrated trotting gelding General Butler, and was thought very highly of by his owner. Captain Kennie's pedigree is unknown, but there is evidently a great deal of blood in him, which is exhibited in his clean legs, the thoroughbred points in his quarters, and in his method of getting over the ground. He stands about 15½ hands. All that his owner knows of him is that he was sired by a Canada stallion out of an imported English mare. The winner had the advantage of being driven on the road all the Summer, and was consequently full of hard food, whereas his opponent had been turned out to grass during the whole period, and was only taken up three weeks prior to the race, and was consequently in a soft, green condition—the only training he had received being a gentle jogging on the road, added to which his driver weighed 40 pounds more than the driver of Butler, Jr., who was far below the regular Fashion Course weights, which caused a discussion among the judges as to whether he ought not to have been distanced for being short of weight. It was to be regretted that the judges did not take the time of the separate miles in so interesting a race, but the owner of the survivor asserts that without track-training he has driven him over the course in 2:36; and MACE, the professional driver, declares confidently that he will, if he is placed under his care, bring him down "among the twenties." It is a curious fact that he came from the same spot as the celebrated Auburn horse, recently purchased by Mr. BONNER for $17,000, who, by the way, was originally sold for $300.

The owner of Capt. Kennie has now issued the following challenge, viz: that he will trot him a twenty-mile race for $5,000, the next ensuing season, against any other green horse that can be produced, or against the best twenty-mile time ever made at the Fashion Course; and it is understood that his challenge has, or will be, accepted by Mr. MULLIGAN, the owner of the victor in the last race, who has another horse of whom he has an equal high opinion with that of the late Butler, Jr. Much credit is due to the gameness and pluck he displayed—but had there been another half mile to go it was evident Capt. Kennie would have caught and beaten him, as he struck a fine gait after having given up trotting. Under all circumstances this was perhaps the most extraordinary trot of its kind that has ever taken place on the Fashion Course, both horses being green and untrained.

THE POLICE COURTS.

The Tombs—Before Justice Dowling.

ALLEGED GAMBLERS ARRESTED.

Mr. JOHN SACKMAN, residing at No. 39 Centre-street, appeared recently before Justice DOWLING, and made complaint against ANTHONY BRUMORGER, OSCAR TADE and JEREMIAH FALVEY, charging that these parties, on the 14th day of December, 1864, won from him, at one sitting, at the game of "faro," $300, in the house No. 90 Chatham-street. The charge was also made that this house is a common gambling-house. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the parties named, and Capt. JOURDAN, of the Sixth Precinct, arrested on Saturday, TADE and FALVEY. BRUMORGER is lying sick at his residence up town. The prisoners were taken before Justice DOWLING, and they were required to find bail to answer before the Court of Sessions in the sum of $500 each. Alderman BARNEY KELLY became bound for TADE, and PETER TRACY for FALVEY.

ASSAULT WITH A CLUB.

On Tuesday morning last, ADOLPH LEANDER, who lives at No. 111 Third-avenue, in a quarrel with a person named EDWARD SEINES, seized a club, as alleged, and struck SEINES repeatedly on the head, seriously wounding him. Mr. SEINES was taken to his home, No. 203 East Ninth-street, where he is now lying in care of his physician. LEANDER was arrested on Saturday by Officer HARRIS, of the Eighteenth Precinct. Coroner GOVER gave the case a partial examination, admitting the accused to bail in the sum of $3,000. Mr. SEINES will probably recover.

RECKLESS RIDING.

Officer CRONIN, of the Sixth Precinct, arrested a German named AUGUSTE FOSCHER, yesterday morning, on a charge of having ridden a horse recklessly through the streets, knocking down and dangerously injuring ELIZA RUSSELL on the corner of Chatham and Duane streets. The horse fell with the force of the collision and FOSCHER was thrown heavily to the pavement. He was committed to await the result of the woman's injuries, she having been conveyed to the New-York Hospital in an insensible state, and her recovery is considered doubtful. The residence of the woman is unknown.

DISCHARGED.

RICHARD ENRIGHT, a First Ward politician, who was recently arrested for assault upon and threatening to shoot Mr. NILES F. SMYTH, of the Revere House, in Broadway, has been discharged. The prisoner was taken from the Tombs by a writ of habeas corpus, issued by Judge BARNARD, of the Supreme Court, who on hearing the case, ordered the prisoner to be discharged, OUTRAGE ON A LITTLE GIRL.

JOHN TILLMAN, a colored man, 20 years of age, was arrested yesterday by Detective EUSTACE, and brought before Justice DOWLING, charged with having committed an outrage upon a little girl four years of age. The details of this outrage are unfit for publication, as are the unhappy results accruing from it. The prisoner was committed without bail, and the case will go before the Grand Jury at once.

FORGERY.

GEORGE S. M. THOMAS, alias George S. Mead, was arrested yesterday and brought before Justice DOWLING, charged with having uttered a forged bill of exchange for $180 on DUNCAN, SHERMAN & Co, bankers. THOMAS, when arrested, confessed to having committed two other forgeries on the same house, giving as his reason for the crime, his utter destitution. It appears that he was for four years a midshipman in the English Navy, and was discharged the service for disobedience of orders. THOMAS is 19 years old, and was born in England. He was committed for examination. The complaint was made by WM. E A MCINTOSH, a member of the above-named firm.

Jefferson Market—Before Justice Ledwith

ANOTHER CONFIDENCE CASE.

OSCAR SMITH, 28 years old, a native of this State, and residing at No. 52 Charles-street, was arrested Saturday morning by Officer O'BYRNE, on the complaint of HENRY B. WARD, residing at No. 85 Laurens-street, a native of Connecticut. The complainant stated that he came here in September last in search of employment, and that on searching the advertisements in a morning journal he found one in which a situation was offered at $18 per week, the sum of $400 to be deposited as security for the honesty of the employe; that he replied to this advertisement in person, by calling at the place named in the advertisement, No. 266 Broadway, Room No. 4. That there he met the prisoner, OSCAR SMITH, who explained to him the nature of the situation, that of grocery clerk in a most respectable establishment. Complainant went with SMITH to a store, No. 299 Fourth-street, where he was introduced to the alleged proprietor, HUGH W. GERN, ultimately agreeing to accept the situation on the terms proposed, an agreement being drawn out to that effect. He then went to a lawyer with SMITH, where the contract was made and signed, and he then handed SMITH $300, SMITH having agreed, as GERN's agent, to accept that sum, the complainant being unwilling to give more. On the day named for his going to business, on his reaching the store, GERN was not there, the place being in charge of a man pointed out to him by SMITH the day before as the wagon driver of the establishment. Waiting there all day, he found that the representations of SMITH as to the trade of the house were slightly overdone, as but five dollars instead of fifty were taken in. Next day he came again, with like results, but on this day a young man called to see GERN, and stated that he had been relieved of $400 by the same advertisement, and had come that day to take his situation. It appears that further evidence will show that these gentlemen have carried on this game with great success, making as much as $1,600 in a day by their conspiring and fraud. Justice LEDWITH committed the prisoner without bail.

ALLEGED THEFT.

Officer O'DONOHUE arrested HIRAM CLARK, who was charged by JOHN TRACY with having taken $200 from his pocket whilst asleep in the house No. 421 West-street. PATRICK TRACY, as witness, deposed that he saw the prisoner take the money from the coat pocket of JOHN TRACY, the complainant, and further stated that the complainant had challenged all around him before he fell asleep, "just to try if they could take it from him." Complainant and witness were very voluble and under the influence of liquor, but the witness swore so plumply to the fact, that the Justice committed CLARK in $1,000 bail to answer.

A PUGILIST IN TROUBLE.

JOHN WILLIAMS was arrested on Saturday night by the Twentieth Precinct Police, on the charge of being one of the principals of a pugilistic encounter arranged to come off at Weehawken, N. J., sometime yesterday, had not the police interfered. WILLIAMS was held to await examination before Justice DODGE. JAMES, who was to have fought with WILLIAMS, has not yet been found.

Essex Market—Before Justice Mansfield.

COUNTERFEITING.

HENRY SCHULTZ, a German, was arrested on Saturday evening for passing a counterfeit $1 bill in the store of DIEDRICH OTIS, No. 164 Cherry-street, while purchasing a paper of tobacco. The bill purported to be a genuine issue of the Ocean County Bank, of Tom's River, N. J. Mr. OTIS received the bill as good, but afterward discovering it to be a counterfeit, followed SCHULTZ and had him arrested. The prisoner confessed his guilt and was at once committed for trial. It was learned during the examination that SCHULTZ lives at No. 97 James-street.

Fires.

IN CENTRE-STREET.

Yesterday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, a fire broke out in the second-hand furniture-store No. 48 Centre-street, owned by Mr. JACKSON. The flames were soon extinguished. Damage to stock about $500; said to be insured. The rear part of the store, known as No. 38 Park-street, is occupied as a looking-glass and frame factory by E. HELMSEN. Damage to stock about $100; insured for $1,500. Damage to building about $100.

MONDAY, Nov. 27—A. M.

The Trade of the week past was generally active and in advance of the corresponding season last year in all departments. The Import entries are six and three-quarters millions, but as the amount bonded at present is larger than the withdrawals from bond, the Customs, on the values marketed, are not correspondingly heavy. The Exports of Domestic Produce are over five millions in value. The Export of Specie is mainly confined to the Bullion in bars received on Monday last by the Henry Chauncey from Aspinwall. The deposits of Gold in the Treasury for Gold bearing Certificates amount to $4,497,140; making since the beginning of the new arrangement, at New-York, $6,800,040, of which $1,248,000 Certificates have been redeemed, mainly through the Custom House. The arrangement is rapidly gaining in popular favor, and now that the Treasury is supplied with all denominations from $20 to $5,000, it accommodates itself to the convenience of all parties desiring to leave their Gold for safe keeping in the Treasury.

The market for Money worked steadily throughout the week, notwithstanding an accumulation in the Treasury Office of $8,222,352 since Saturday week, preparatory to paying off the balance of 5 ℔ cent. Coupon Legal Tenders of 1863, due Dec. 1. Part of these Notes have already been deposited on 6 ℔ cent. interest, ten days' notice after thirty days, and it is doubtful whether more than $14,000,000 or $15,000,000 remain out for redemption at New-York. The Treasury balances at New-York, Gold and Currency, now amount to $68,180,049.

The Railway and Miscellaneous speculation at the Stock Exchange showed considerable animation, and generally in the upward direction, while Government Stocks were dull in demand, though not greatly pressed on sale. The absence of orders from abroad for 5-20s of 1862 is not without its influence for the moment on the new 5-20s and 7-30s; but another cause of depression is the parcels of 7-30s of the second and third issues of June and July which continue to come forward from the Country Banks.

The Import Entries for the past week, including the Dry Goods return in our last paper, amount to $6,793,221 as against the total entries of $2,068,334 same week last year. The Export Clearances of Domestic Produce amount to $5,022,750, against $4,845,104 same week last year. The export of Specie amounts to $723,516, against $1,524,000 same week last year. The Customs for the week are $1,949,100. The receipts of Cotton, coastwise and by railroad, are 28,283 bales. The number of emigrant passengers arrived during the week is 6,681.

The supply of Money, as usual on Saturday, was a little more free than earlier in the week. The price to the Brokers, returnable at call, is 7 ℔ cent., with exceptions at 6 ℔ cent. on Government collateral. The demand was not so active as on Friday. The price of Gold a fraction higher; sales at 146⅞@147⅛ ℔ cent. The shipments of Specie by the day's steamers $723,516, chiefly in the California Gold and Silver bars received by the last Aspinwall steamer. No other shipments were made during the week. The amount taken for Customs duties during the week, $1,949,100; the amount paid out for Gold interest, $551,287; the receipts of cotton larger than the previous week by 12,000 bales. The total is 28,283 bales.

On the Stock Exchange the Government list was dull, while the Railway speculation manifested much irregularity in the course of prices. Erie moved upward again, while the Northwest shares, the favorites early in the week, were depressed. There was more steadiness in Pittsburgh than on Friday, and a good demand for Rock Island.

At 3 o'clock, the following quotations were made, as compared with the last dealings of the previous afternoon. The Railway movement left off rather steady in prices, after a fair business at the Open Board of Brokers, two sessions of which are now held on Saturdays:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

The official returns of the late election in Pennsylvania have at length been received from Harrisburgh. The footings up are as follows:

FOR AUDITOR-GENERAL.

J. F. Hartranft, Union	238,400
W. W. H. Davis, Dem	215,740
Hartranft's majority	22,660

FOR SURVEYOR-GENERAL.

J. M. Campbell, Union	237,969
I. P. Linton, Dem	215,981
Campbell's majority	21,988

The total vote for Auditor-General is 454,140, which is 118,562 less than the heavy vote for President in 1860. HARTRANFT'S vote is 57,991 less than LINCOLN'S, and DAVIS' 60,576 less than MCCLELLAN'S, the decline in each party being nearly the same.

Jefferson County, Va., is inclined to rebel against annexation to West Virginia. At a late meeting in Charlestown, it was resolved that two persons from each magisterial district of the county be appointed for the purpose of canvassing their districts for signers to petitions to Congress and the Legislature, and at the same time to receive such contribution in money as the citizens may be willing to make toward defraying the expenses of defending themselves against annexation to West Virginia.

A Brownsville letter in the New-Orleans Times, dated the 15th inst., corroborates the statement that the Imperialists fired on a United States boat drifting down the river, causing the crew to run her ashore and take safety in flight. The Imperial fire did no harm to the boat, but the Captain of it had a narrow escape, a musket ball passing through his hat. It is understood that Gen. WEITZEL has demanded an explanation of the affair.

Mr. DEXTER, United States Treasury Agent, under charges of malfeasance at Mobile, is held for trial by a military court. On application for the release of DEXTER, Gen. WOODS refused, on the ground that the writ of habeas corpus is not restored in Alabama, whereupon the District Judge granted an attachment against Gen. WOODS, returnable in two weeks.

The Alabama Legislature was organized on the 20th inst., by the election of Hon. WALTER H. CRENSHAW, from Butler and Lowndes, President of the Senate; MICHAEL TAUL, Esq., Secretary of the Senate; Hon. THOMAS B. COOPER, of Cherokee, Speaker of the House, and WILLIAM H. FOWLER, Esq., Clerk of the House.

The telegraph reports a collision on the Mississippi, just above Helena, involving the loss of one hundred passengers, all colored soldiers lately discharged. The vessels were the Niagara and Post Boy. The former sunk in twenty feet water; cargo not insured. The cabin passengers and crew were saved. The Post Boy was not injured.

On the 24th the steamer Melnotte struck a snag on the Mississippi near Island No. 6, and was only saved from sinking by throwing overboard her deck load.

The Washington Star says that the statement that Judge MAGRATH and the rebel Secretary of War, SEDDON, have been released from Fort Pulaski, and Gov. LUBBOCK from Fort Delaware, on their parole, is without foundation, and that there is no probability that either will very soon be set at liberty.

Frauds in the Quartermaster's Department at Louisville, Ky., amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars, have been discovered, and it is supposed that they will greatly exceed that amount. The military authorities have suppressed the names of the guilty parties for the present.

The members of the Farragut Court-martial visited the rebel ram Stonewall on Saturday, for the purpose of inspecting her, and trying the sailing capacity of that vessel in connection with the trial of Commodore CRAVEN, charged with failing to engage the Stonewall in the harbor of Ferrol.

The gold quartz vein lately discovered in Green County, Penn., is found to extend into West Virginia. A petroleum company, in sinking an oil well, struck the rock at the depth of 519 feet. Specimens have been sent to Philadelphia for examination.

The Boston Transcript says that the Boston Monday morning papers were not allowed to publish reports of Sunday evening meetings, the State Constable having just decided that their preparation and printing are not works of necessity, mercy or charity.

The New-Orleans Picayune has a Brownsville paper of the 7th, which contains the announcement of the capture of Monterey by the Liberals. The New-Orleans Times, however, has advices from Matamoras to the 8th, inclusive, which say nothing of the matter.

EDWARD SIMPSON, late master-caulker at the Navy-yard, charged by the government with a series of embezzlements, covering a long period, was cleared on Saturday by a jury in the United States District Court.

Crimes of murderous kinds still abound at Nashville and in the vicinity. On Saturday night a negro was killed, and a white citizen of Nashville was murdered by a negro near the town.

The special Treasury Agent for Choctaw County, Ala., charged with defrauding the department, has been sentenced to pay a fine of $9,000, and one year's imprisonment at hard labor.

The fire at Frankfort, Ky., recently was disastrous. Litigants will be startled to learn that the records of the Court of Appeals are entirely destroyed.

Gen. THOMAS, of the Department of the Tennessee, has rescinded the order prohibiting the carrying of side-arms.

Some Louisiana papers give favorable reports in regard to cotton planting and the condition of the freedmen.

The new presses and type for the Galveston Bulletin were lost off Florida, by the wreck of the schooner T. W. Lawrence in the late storm.

Gen. PRINCE DE RUSSEY, of the Corps of Engineers, died in San Francisco on the 22d, aged 75 years.

The emigration from Alabama and other Southern States to Texas is on the increase.

LOCAL NEWS.

AUGUSTE FOSCHER was yesterday arrested for reckless driving and seriously injuring ELIZA RUSSELL at the corner of Chatham and Duane streets. He was committed to await results of the woman's injuries. GEORGE S. M. THOMAS, a discharged English midshipman, was arrested yesterday for forging a bill of exchange for [illegible] on DUNCAN, SHERMAN & CO. He confessed to having made two other forgeries. JOHN SILVAN, a colored man, was brought up, charged with committing an outrage on a little girl only four years of age, [illegible] without bail. HENRY SCHULTZ, a German, was arrested for passing a counterfeit $1 bill on the Ocean County Bank, N. J., he having confessed his guilt.

Rev. MORGAN DIX, S. T. D., Rector of Trinity Church, preached a sermon last evening in behalf of St. Barnabas' Protestant Episcopal City Mission-house, No. 304 Mulberry-street. Calvary Church was crowded with a very attentive and much interested congregation. No collection was taken, but doubtless the treasury of the Mission-house will reap lasting benefit from the sermon. The preacher gave a concise history of the work of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society in establishing free churches. He then stated the object of the society in establishing this house, namely, to reach the very poor and the degraded.

GEORGE WHITE and DANIEL O'BRIEN, seamen on board the ship Thomas Dunham, were arrested Saturday evening, at the instance of Capt. YOUNG, of the same vessel, on a charge of having mutinied during the voyage just closed, from London to this port. They broke into the cargo, and helped themselves to liquor, under the influence of which they assaulted the Captain with knives. He escaped their attack by shooting them slightly. One of the prisoners was locked up at the Harbor Police-station; the other was put in the City Hospital.

OSCAR SMITH was arrested Saturday, charged with having swindled HENRY B. WARD, by the successful carrying out of a confidence game in which WARD was the victim, and SMITH and a confederate named GERN (not yet arrested) were the operators. It was one of those cases where the credulous are induced by advertisement to give a sum of money—in this case $300—for a situation, which, of course, is never procured for them. It was stated that the swindlers made as much as $1,600 in one day by this game.

Capt. WADDY, of the Forty-fourth Precinct Police, having on Saturday evening apprehended JOSE GONZALEZ, the principal in the murder of OTERO, his station-house was besieged, yesterday, by curious multitudes; but only those who had imperative business in the house were admitted. There was no little excitement in the City Park, near the scene of the murder. The inquest is to be held on Tuesday morning, at the Kings County Coroner's office, by Coroner LYNCH.

A sermon was delivered at St. Ann's Church last evening, in aid of the funds of the Protestant Episcopal Tract Society, by Rev. H. A. NEELY. The reverend gentleman stated that the Society was in the seventieth year of its existence, yet its receipts did not exceed $1,700 per annum. Last year this amount was somewhat increased by a legacy. The preacher spoke of the great use and benefits of the society and a collection was then taken up.

An examination was commenced Saturday before Commissioner OSBORN, in the case of MICHAEL D. SEMINARY, a cook on board the ship Edward Hyman, who was charged with having attempted to poison a seaman named WM. BROWN. The testimony of several witnesses was taken, and further investigation adjourned until to-day.

MICHAEL HALEY, lodging at No. 46 Mulberry-street, attacked with an ax a fellow-lodger named MCGARY. MCGARY and he had quarreled during the day, and had threatened several times to kill him. MCGARY was asleep when the blow was given, and is not expected to recover. HALEY is in the Tombs.

A meeting of the Union General Committee was held on Saturday evening, at which it was resolved to hold a meeting on Thursday next, to ratify the nominations for city officers. Able and well-known speakers have been invited.

Col. GEORGE D. KELLOGG and GEORGE H. MCKAY have been nominated by the Union Convention for Councilmen in the Sixth District. JAMES M. THOMPSON, Jr., has received the Union nomination for School Commissioner of the Eighteenth Ward.

An adjourned meeting of the Wallace Memorial Committee was held at Irving Hall Saturday afternoon. The several committees reported progress, and adjourned to Saturday next.

ADOLPH LEANDER assaulted EDWARD SEINKS with a club, in Third-avenue, dangerously wounding him. LEANDER has been arrested and held to answer in $3,000 bail.

Produce and merchandise were in moderate demand, on Saturday, at generally unsettled prices. Shipping brands of flour were dearer. Freights were quiet, as room was scarce, and rates were quoted higher. There were 528 vessels of all classes in port.

The Stock market closed dull on Saturday. Gold, 147; Exchange, 109⅛; Money in good supply on call.

The President on the Removal of Troops From the Southern States.

In his last dispatch to Gov. HUMPHREYS, of Mississippi, a full copy of which appears to-day in another column, the President shows how far removed is his policy from any approach to sectionalism or partisanship. The question of the withdrawal of the national troops was that on which the President's views were asked for. And the tone in which these views are stated for the guidance of the civil authorities of Mississippi—apart altogether from the entirely moderate and reasonable character of the views themselves—cannot but convince the rational-minded of the Southern people that the basis of Mr. JOHNSON'S policy is conciliation. Not conciliation of one class at the expense of justice to another—but conciliation between all classes, as well as all sections. "The troops will be withdrawn," says the President, "when peace and order and the civil authority have been restored and can be maintained without them." Again he says: "Every step will be taken while they (the troops) are there to enforce strict discipline and subordination to the civil authority." No concession is to be required of the people of Mississippi, other than a loyal compliance with the laws and Constitution of the United States—including "protection to all freedmen in person and property." The programme is simple and specific, and can only be considered arbitrary or tyrannical by those who do not loyally and in good faith purpose to return to their former allegiance.

As respects the tone in which the President lays down the conditions to restored confidence (on the part of the government) in the honest purposes of the lately seceded States—we can hardly conceive what could possibly be more conciliatory than the words of this dispatch, wherein he says to Gov. HUMPHREYS: "There is no disposition arbitrarily on the part of the government to dictate what action should be had; but on the contrary to simply and kindly advise a policy that is believed will result in restoring all the relations which should exist between the States comprising the Federal Union."

If there be a governing class at the South that regards these propositions or the mode in which they are presented as unjust to their separate States, it is clear that such a class has no idea of accepting with honest conscience the terms held out to them in the President's proclamation, under which they were empowered to reorganize their local governments. The eagerness with which Mississippi and other States ask to be relieved of the presence of the national troops may not be altogether unnatural. But it is well to remind them that that very eagerness displays a lack of confidence in the policy, the intentions and the good faith of the President. On the one side the lately seceded States demand that the government shall at once extend to them immediate and unreserved confidence and trust—while they, on the other side, shall declare non-confidence in the government, by thwarting or trifling with the President's requirements, and by regarding his agents as enemies instead of protectors and friends. Surely the President in view of these facts has a right to call these gentlemen back to reason. If there is to be confidence reëstablished it must not be all on one side. If it is not mutual, restoration would be the hollowest sort of truce between the two sections of the country. The government surely have a right to require that they shall be trusted to a degree at least corresponding to the extent to which the South itself has already been trusted in the business of reorganization. And until it is clear that there is this reciprocal feeling, the work of complete restoration is necessarily retarded. When there is a thorough revival of confidence at the South in the honor, justice and liberality which have characterized the President's policy, the work assigned to the national troops since the close of the war, will have justified itself to every section of the country alike.

The City Election.

The excellent nominations made by the Union party have effected a decided change in the prospects of the coming election. MARSHALL O. ROBERTS is universally known to be energetic, capable, upright and public spirited. He is as thoroughly and heartily a friend of city reform as either Mr. HECKER or Mr. HOFFMAN can possibly be; while as Mayor he would have the very great advantage over both those gentlemen of being sure of the cordial coöperation and confidence of the Union Legislature.

It is said by some of the advocates of Reform that Mr. ROBERTS labors under the disadvantage of being the nominee of a party. So does Mr. HECKER, with the additional misfortune of having a very bad party to support him. He is the nominee of Mozart Hall. He has received and accepted their nomination,—assuring him that if he is elected "their expectations shall not be disappointed." It is now known, moreover, that his sympathies throughout the war have been with that branch of the Democratic party, and with the Secessionists North and South. He denounced the war as unjust, and as sure to incur the divine displeasure, because it made war against the divine institution of Slavery. He rejoiced in our defeats, and approved Mayor GUNTHER'S refusal to sanction an ordinance to rejoice in the victories of the Union armies.

If we had no men equally honest, who were also loyal and patriotic during the war, it might be necessary to elect a Copperhead Mayor. But why such candidates should be preferred to men equally honest, more experienced, just as zealous for reform, and who stood by the Union and the government through the rebellion against both, we find it difficult to conjecture.

Our Financial Policy—The Secretary of the Treasury.

We met with but limited success in the war until our military action was characterized by unity of plan, method and direction. When we got these, under the Lieutenant-Generalcy of GRANT, we began to move forward, steadily and systematically, to the final triumph. It is possible that GRANT'S way of reaching Richmond by an overland march was not the best conceivable way; it is certain that the necessities imposed by the policy of concentration were attended by loss and suffering, and were otherwise liable to severe criticism; it is doubtful whether all the coöperative movements were wisely designed, and it is sure that several of them were failures in execution. But the great and important central fact remains that, with the governing unity referred to, it was possible to wield the entire forces of the nation harmoniously, and for the carrying out of a fixed purpose in a defined manner. It ended ambitious wranglings, rectified cross purposes, stopped the conflict of project and action, relegated military tyros and charlatans to limbo, and gave us the prime conditions of success, at the same time that it removed the main causes of failure.

The great problem now before the nation is financial, not military; but we have as much wrangling, as many cross purposes, as many hair-brained sciolists, each with his patent plan and "only sure cure," as many croakers and as many shams, to distract and damage us in the attempt to solve the financial difficulty, as formerly we had in our struggles upon the military field. There are a thousand opposing theories, ten thousand contending interests. Each is determined to get control, and some are determined to rule or ruin. Each declaimer is prepared to prove that financial destruction will follow the rejection of his plan, and that national wealth and safety will be secured by its adoption. One wants to move on the enemy's capital by this route, another by that; one by land, another by water; one in single column, another in two or three columns. One desires immediate action, another slow approaches. One would have a policy of concentration or contraction, another a policy of expansion. And so the hubbub goes on, and confusion becomes worse confounded.

We do not object to argument, earnest and intelligent, upon this or any other subject. We do not object to public discussion or criticism where the parties to it have taken pains to become informed upon the question in dispute, and where they are all imbued by a proper spirit. On a subject of such profound national concern as the finances, light is to be welcomed, wherever it comes from.

But there are some principles of financial management, as of military management, which are so established as to have almost the certainty of scientific law; and there are others which are so approved by the experience of other countries or our own, in former times or at the present day, as to be considered by sensible men as practically beyond the reach of assault. There are still others in operation of doubtful value in themselves, which yet it is not well to meddle with lightly, for the reason that they produce tolerably fair results, and more evil than good is likely to ensue from their untimely change. And we see in many of the popular outpourings on financial topics such painful ignorance or negligence of these things, together with such a baneful spirit of passion or prejudice, that we fear on the whole little public benefit and much public injury comes from them.

Now, we do not propose that the manager of our finances, the Secretary of the Treasury, should have any such financial power vested in him as the military power that was vested in Lieut.-Gen. GRANT, and was followed by such happy results. But we do argue and urge that the greatest consideration should be given by Congress and by the country to the suggestions he may make—that the policy he has matured, the plans he has wrought out, and the system he has adopted, or may adopt, be looked upon at least as the conclusions of one versed in financial theories, acquainted with financial methods, experienced in practical financial work, and characterized by ability and honesty. The nation is more likely to achieve a financial triumph in this way than by suffering itself to be distracted by the advice of many counselors, however wise they may be.

The Charter Contest.

From the Tribune.

Is our municipal administration ever to be reformed? If taxes amounting to three per cent. on the official valuation of our property will not arouse the people to make the necessary effort, would four, five, or even six per cent., have any effect? If we are ever to have city reform, is it not high time?

The city is indebted to the Legislature for some useful "reforms." The Metropolitan Police has worked a most comfortable "reform." The Board of Governors of the Alms-house works beneficently. The Commissioners of Emigration have not only "reformed" great abuses in the city, but afford subsistence and homes for sick and destitute strangers, without taxing either city or private charity, and in the meantime adorn the islands adjacent to the city with edifices whose architectural beauty excites universal admiration. The Central Park Commissioners give satisfaction. These wholesome "reforms," though roundly denounced as Legislative usurpations, are now generally approved.

And why may we not, in the present exigency, reasonably hope for legislative relief? Why may not the Legislature advantageously enlarge the powers of an honest, capable Mayor? Indeed, this is what the Tribune has asked for in years past, and is proposing now. But is it to be expected that a devotedly Union Legislature will thus favor a "Copperhead" Mayor?

Liquor and Crime.

Every day's police and criminal reports indicate anew the great and terrible agency of liquor in the production of crime. In the latest of our local horrors—the murder of Señor OTERO in Brooklyn—the perpetrators of the crime, (if we may infer that those under arrest as the culprits are really such,) first plied their victim and then filled themselves with hot and strong liquor, as a necessary preliminary to the commission of the atrocity. And nine out of ten of the murders that disgrace our community are committed under the same infernal influence. The same thing may be said of the lesser grades of criminality. In cases of violent assault, the assailants are nearly always excited by liquor; and in a large proportion of the personal outrages on the streets and elsewhere, the victim or the perpetrator is a victim of this unnatural stimulus. It is one of the chief causes of domestic quarrels and difficulties—one of the fundamental agencies of degradation and vice. In fact, it would seem from our experience, that, but for liquor and its influences, the grosser forms of crime would, in great measure, cease to prevail.

The American people, of all classes, are altogether too much given to the use of strong liquors—whisky, brandy, gin, &c.; and perhaps they are also getting to use too extensively heavy beers and ales. Nothing is more conclusively demonstrated than that the excessive use of strong alcoholic drinks is prejudicial to the health as well as the morals—that it is ruinous to the physical organism of the nation as well as to its intellectual organism. They are used mainly as producers of excitement, and that too chiefly by those who of all things ought to avoid this sort of excitement. And when we have evidence every day that they are the main source of crime, people ought to take warning as to how they touch them and to whom they offer them.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.—A gentleman of the name of GILBERT, "from England," has announced in Dr. CHEEVER'S church, that during the coming Winter we shall have a more fearful sectional conflict than ever. The rebels being all perjured persons, should not, according to Mr. GILBERT, "from England," ever be allowed to participate again in the government of the country. Without at all doubting the sincerity which appertains to utterances of Mr. GILBERT, "from England," we think it would be quite as becoming in him to allow his opinions to mature a little before thrusting them into the face of the community here, even under the shade and sanction of a reverend patron. Why should a stranger come here to glory over the prospect of new conflicts between the North and the South? Such conflicts are purely imaginary. There will be an earnest and sober discussion in Congress on the best and safest measures for the restoration of the lately insurgent States to the Union. But it is a vile and insane forecasting of evil to predict, as this Mr. GILBERT does, a conflict which will "rage more fiercely than ever." The whole tone of public opinion outside of certain small fanatical circles, clearly indicates the desire of honest men of all parties to take a calm estimate of the situation, and discard everything like sectional prejudice in dealing with the question of readmission. Irresponsible agitators have other ends to subserve than the restoration of good will between the North and the South; and the prophesying of evil is their last resort. In spite of this, the country refuses to be driven again into fierce and violent sectional controversy.

THE FINE WEATHER.—The mild and genial weather we are having at this season is a great blessing to the poor, as well as of enjoyment to all. The poor do not shiver and suffer at night in their sorrowful houses, nor feel so keenly their lack of warm and comfortable clothing and covering. They are not compelled to spend so much of their earnings in the purchase of coal, and thus are enabled to fare better otherwise. This article of coal is still sold at an exceedingly high price, and to those who are compelled to buy it in small quantities, by the bushel or the "scuttle," it comes thrice or four times as high as to those who are able to purchase it by the ton. Rent and coal are heavy burdens to the poor of this city; and whatever tends to lighten the one or the other must be gratefully regarded as a Providential beneficence.

LORD RUSSELL ON PARLIAMENTARY REFORM.—The earnest advocates of British Parliamentary Reform can hardly have much confidence that Lord RUSSELL will make much of any attempt at liberalizing the constitution. His latest professions on the subject are exceedingly indefinite. These were his words at the Guildhall Banquet:

> "I trust I may appeal against premature declarations of want of confidence. With regard to principles, I can only say, my Lord Mayor, that, for myself, I cannot abandon those principles which for twenty years, come weal, come woe, recommended me to the confidence of the citizens of this great metropolis. I shall always reflect with pride on the connection that existed between us. I shall not, for my part, forget the old acquaintances which I then made, nor shall I forget the principles I then declared to the people of this great city, and which they sanctioned with their approbation. But, my Lord and gentlemen, that is another part of practical politics. Besides the principles that are to be adopted, there is the application of those principles—which is a question always of events and circumstances, of time and of opportunity. It would be rash and unwarrantable in me, were I now to enter upon any question as to the measures which the government may think proper to introduce."

The Cabinet hangs too loosely together for it to venture upon any great party contest in the House of Commons. And there is probably some truth in the statement that Lord RUSSELL has made overtures to such advanced Conservatives as Lord STANLEY for official and Parliamentary help. But even the accession of Lord DERBY'S son to the Liberal or Whig ranks would hardly give the ministry under its present leadership any additional prestige or popularity. The country, too, has made up its mind that no further Parliamentary reform will ever come from the hands of a traditional Whig. A Gladstone-Stanley Government would certainly be the strongest coalition that could be formed in England to-day.

AMUSEMENTS.

A rather unpropitious week was brought to a brilliant musical termination on Saturday. On that day Mr. MARETZEK gave his patrons a matinée performance of "Fra Diaval " It was witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the Academy of Music, extending absolutely from the parquette to the amphitheatre. The sex was indeed irresistible, both in numbers and splendor. Such few specimens of the male animal as dared brave the ordeal, ranged themselves timidly in the lobbies, and, like TENNYSON'S hero, "perused the matting." It is not necessary to speak of the performance.

We have such a comfortable and liberal allowance of opera under Mr. MARETZEK'S management, that we are apt to be thoughtless of the duration of the season. It is not, we think, generally appreciated that the present is the last week but two, yet such is the case. Mr. MARETZEK'S Winter campaign ends in the second week of the coming month. The company then goes to Boston, and we shall have no opera until February. The immediate announcements are therefore of particular interest, inasmuch as the "last nights" of many popular works are positively what they pretend to be. Thus there will be a final performance of "Crispino e la Comare" this evening—an opera which would hardly be withdrawn under less positive circumstances. On Wednesday, "Faust" will be given. The remaining nights will, we presume, be devoted to "L'Africaine," which work will be produced without fail on Friday next. It is unnecessary, we are sure, to direct attention to the importance of this announcement. No one who pretends in any way to be interested in music will read the advertisement in another column without the liveliest interest. The posthumous work of MEYERBEER is doubly interesting from the fact of its being the last effort of a great master, and the one which he regarded as his best. There has been some difference of opinion as to the justice of the latter estimate, but the steady career of the opera in Paris, its popularity in Madrid and the extraordinary enthusiasm with which, in an English dress, it has been received in London, all indicate that it possesses merits of no ordinary kind. The promptness with which Mr. MARETZEK has put it on the stage enables us yet to form our opinion for ourselves before the many voiced verdict of Germany—where seventeen theatres have it in rehearsal—has filled the land. The scenery and costumes have been prepared, and additions have been made to the orchestra and chorus. The rehearsals have been constant and thorough. We may conclude then that on Friday evening the "African" will go smoothly and present its claims to public acceptance in a forcible and satisfactory way.

The concert of Mrs. E. G. BOSTWICK attracted a large number of her friends to Irving Hall on Saturday evening. The lady, who is well known as a valuable artist, was welcomed in a most hearty manner, and deservedly applauded after every piece which she sang. She possesses great skill in roloratura and passages, and surprises by the manner in which she uses her voice. Mrs. BOSTWICK was very ably supported by Madame ABEL, and Messrs. SIMPSON, MOLLENHAUER, and COLLIERE. Mr. SIMPSON'S sympathetic voice made a very pleasing effort in the serenade from "Fra Diavalo." The other artists also did justice to their good reputation. Mr. TORENO presided at the piano, and it was a real treat to hear him accompany, after we have heard so many incompetent accompanyists lately in the concert room.

The second concert of THEODORE THOMAS' series of symphonic soirees will take place on Saturday next. The programme is excellent.

Mr. GROVER'S opera troupe will start soon on its tour. Messrs. HABELMANN and STEINECKE have joined the troupe, but Madame JOHANNSEN will not leave the city.

Mrs. PROSSER gave three pleasant readings from the poets last week at Dodworth's Saloon. The lady reads with skill, and displays a dramatic impressibility which we seldom expect or find in the lecture-room. In the larger field of the stage she would, we think, shine to better advantage, her manner being eminently intense and illustrative. To distinguish various parts and give them some vraisemblance in spite of the one familiar voice, is a feat of no ordinary difficulty. Mrs. PROSSER accomplishes it succesfully, and deserves, therefore, to rank as a mistress of her arduous and thankless avocation. We commend the lady to the attention of those who believe that there is a halting place between the studio and the stage.

The theatres are doing well, and the changes, in consequence, are unimportant. The announcements are as follows: At the Winter Garden, Mr. J. S. CLARKE resumes his famous character of Salem Scudder, in BOUCICAULT'S beautiful drama of the "Octoroon." The piece has been remodeled by the author, and is now played in four acts. Miss ROSE EYTINGE sustains the rôle of the heroine. At Wallack's Theatre, the new drama of "Lost in London" will be played every night until further notice. At the Olympic, the fairy spectacle of the "Sleeping Beauty." At Niblo's Garden, Mr. EDWIN FORREST in one of his great impersonations. At Barnum's Museum, the circus company, with Mr. EATON STONE at its head, and a petite comedy. At the Broadway Theatre, "Sam." At the Old Bowery Theatre, "Sinbad the Sailor" and a drama. At the New Bowery Theatre, "Peep o' Day; or, Savourneen Deelish," and a drama and farce.

The New-York circus, Fourteenth-street, present an admirable bill. Under its new management this establishment is conducted with great spirit, and can fairly boast of the best performers ever seen in New-York. Mr. ROBINSON and his little son CLARENCE are wonderful artists.

There are four minstrel bands now before the public. Bryants,' Wood's, Butler's (American Theatre) and Thorpe and Overin's. The latter is a new institution opening to-night on the corner of Grand and Crosby streets.

THE FUNNY FOLKS.—Mr. ED. UNDERHILL repeated his "Evening with the Funny Folks" in Brooklyn on Saturday evening. He gives a delicious melange of oddities, and many of his illustrations, recitations, imitations, and other accessaries, are eminently successful, as the continuous explosions of laughter in the audience amply proved. We presume the Brooklyn success will induce Mr. U. to try his luck in New-York before long.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Nov. 26.

MARVELOUS BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

In making up the statistics of the Treasury Department the fact is disclosed that in the fiscal years ending June 30, respectively, in 1862, 1863 and 1864, notwithstanding that we had over one million men in the field, and thus withdrawn from labor, we exported to foreign countries two and three-quarter times more wheat and eight times more ham and bacon than in 1858, 1859 and 1860. In this statement the wheat and flour are changed to their equivalent in wheat, and it is to be observed that these proportions are estimated in bushels and pounds, and not prices. Our leading manufactures had not increased during the rebellious period over that of the previous years.

CONGRESSMEN COMING.

The arrival of Congressmen is becoming more frequent. Senator RAMSAY, of Minnesota; Gens. GARFIELD and SCHENCK, of Ohio, and E. C. INGERSOLL, of Illinois, are among the arrivals to-day. Gen. GARFIELD has entirely recovered from the accident which kept him out of the late political canvass in Ohio, and looks extremely well.

MALLORY AND OTHERS NOT RELEASED.

The reported release of Messrs. MALLORY, YULEE, LUBBACK and other prominent participators in the rebellion, is untrue. Strong efforts are being made in behalf of YULEE and MALLORY, but there are particular reasons for holding on to them for the present.

VETERANS MUSTERED OUT.

Nearly all of the privates in the Veteran Reserve Corps have voted, under the late order of the War Department, to leave the service, and have been mustered out. In one regiment but four men remain. A large number of the officers, however, remain in the service. Most of them are utterly incapacitated from the pursuit of their former business avocations, as is found from the official reports now coming to the War Department and from other sources. These of course desire to remain in the service, and in order to make place for them in the regular army, if it shall be determined to merge the Veteran Reserves into that organization, an enabling act is proposed to be submitted to Congress to be enacted into a law which will provide for the admission of the Veteran Reserve officers, retaining their present grade or rank as near as may be, upon certificate from a board of examiners of competency and fitness for their positions. It is understood that the Secretary of War favors this plan.

PROPOSED REDUCTION OF TAXES.

A prominent member of the Senate Finance Committee announced his intention to urge upon Congress the reduction of government taxes full one hundred millions of dollars. He proposes this upon the ground that the revenue after this reduction shall have been made, will be ample for the payment of the expenses of the government, beside leaving a large sum to be applied to the payment of the public debt.

SPECIAL MAIL AGENT.

Capt. S. L. PHELPS, a resident of Ohio, and for twenty-five years past of the United States Navy, was yesterday appointed by the Postmaster-General a special agent for the government, to accompany the Pacific mail steamships, under the contract a few weeks ago entered into, and look to the interests of the United States in the execution of the agreement between the mail company and the government. Capt. PHELPS will leave Boston on the 6th of December for England, thence to China, and return by the Pacific route.

COMMANDER OF COLORED TROOPS.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. DUNCAN, of the Fourth United States colored troops, arrived in the city yesterday, and will assume command of all the colored troops on duty in this vicinity.

REVENUE AFFAIRS.

Certain heavy dealers in soda-water addressed a letter to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, asking to be released from the payment of six per cent. tax on their sales, and that the sums already paid by them under instructions heretofore given to revenue officers, be refunded. These dealers object to paying tax upon their sales of soda-water from the fountain, on the ground that they do not charge the fountains with carbonic acid gas, which, they contend, is the manufacture of soda-water. They purchase their fountains charged, or pay a man for charging them, and they claim therefore that, as the law requires the tax to be paid by the manufacturer or producer, they cannot legally be called upon to make returns and pay tax. Commissioner ROLLINS decides that the peculiar phraseology of the law clearly indicates the intention of Congress to impose an ad valorem tax on the sales from the fountain, and that he can see no good reason for reversing the previous decision of the Commissioner under which these dealers are required to return the sales of soda-water made from fountains, to pay taxes according to the terms of that decision.

Suicide of an American.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

FRANKFORT, Germany, Nov. 5, 1865.

A few days since an American, from Prussian Poland, called at the office of the United States Consul-General here, and announced the fact that he intended to get married the next day at the Consulate, and wanted the civil papers made out for that purpose. He had already spoken to the Rabbi to perform the ceremony.

The night before the marriage was to take place he committed suicide in the Hotel Landsbergh. No cause is known to exist for this rash act except that he said the day before that he was marrying the girl against his will, but to please his mother. He had considerable means.

A Telegraphic Feat—Communication between New-Orleans and New-York.

LOUISVILLE, Sunday, Nov. 26.

The Memphis Bulletin of to-day says last night, for the first time in nearly ten years, telegraphic communication was held between New-York and New-Orleans. The first message transmitted from New-York to New-Orleans was as follows: "Weather clear and pleasant. Time, 8:55." The answer returned was: "Weather clear and cool. Time, 7:50." Another dispatch from New-York was followed by thirty-one messages from New-Orleans to New-York, occupying about forty minutes, each message averaging twenty words. This length of line has been worked only once before, and that was between San Francisco and New-York, a few months ago, the only success attending which was the transmission of a few words. This leaves the credit to the stretch of line between New-Orleans and New-York of being the longest over which any business has ever been done in this country.

North Carolina Matters—Meeting of the Legislature—The United States Senatorship.

RALEIGH, Sunday, Nov. 26.

The Legislature meets to-morrow. A large number of members have arrived. Gov. HOLDEN is still confined to his bed from sickness. Dr. POWELL, State Agent at Washington, has arrived with dispatches to the Governor, but they are not yet made public. Messrs. POOL, READE, HOLDEN, DICK SETTLES and others are spoken of in connection with the Senatorship. It is thought that the Constitutional amendment will be ratified by the Legislature. Prominent gentlemen who had been to Washington are not very hopeful as to the future of the State and reconstruction.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Saturday, Nov. 25.

There is a fair trade for the season. The most important changes in prices this week are a fall in Petroleum to 86c.@87½c., consequent upon receipts via the Isthmus. Breadstuffs are moderately active for export. Wheat, $2 07½. Barley, $1 10. Mining stocks have slightly improved. Money is abundant at 1¼@1½ ₱ cent. ₱ month. Foreign tonnage is plenty, and rates are low.

From New-Orleans.

The steamer Costa Rica, from New Orleans 19th inst., arrived last night. We are indebted to the Purser for papers. They have little news of interest not already telegraphed.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Dedication of a New Presbyterian Church.

OPENING SERVICES AND SERMON.

An edifice of unpretending exterior, situated at the junction of Fortieth-street and Lexington-avenue, was opened yesterday morning for divine service. In its interior arrangements the church is admirably adapted to the holy purpose to which it has been dedicated, and to the comfort of the congregation, who cannot but feel gratified at the extremely happy results of the labors of those to whom its construction and chastely modest decoration were intrusted. The corner-stone of the building was laid on the 6th day of July last, and the interior completed a few days since. The structure measures ninety feet by forty, and seats commodiously its congregation of four hundred and fifty persons. The pulpit, of graceful design and ornamentation, is a gift of a member of the congregation, alike creditable to his taste as to his charity. The organ is small, but of much sweetness of tone, and of compass sufficient for the space it is required to fill. The pews are painted in enamel, with framing of black walnut, and cushions of neutral-colored merino. The effect upon the stranger as he enters the edifice is that neatness and order lend their aid to sanctify the house of prayer. The service was opened by the young and eloquent pastor, Rev. CHARLES E. HART, who, after the singing of the opening hymn by the congregation, offered up with much fervor and devotion the dedicatory prayer. A sermon was then delivered of considerable power, with frequent passages of rhetorical beauty, by Rev. S. D. ALEXANDER, D. D., from the text, Isaiah, 59th chapter and 21st verse. The service closed by the singing of the 101st Psalm, the congregation rendering with much feeling the passage, pregnant with beauty and with promise, "Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me."

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE KINGS COUNTY CANVASS.—The Supervisors will add up the total vote on the State ticket to-day. Several districts being incomplete, prevented them from declaring the official result on Saturday.

Williamsburgh.

THE LAST OF THE PROVOST-MARSHAL'S BUREAU IN BROOKLYN.—Pursuant to orders from the War Department at Washington, the Provost-Marshal's offices of the First, Second and Third Districts, comprising Staten Island and Long Island, will be discontinued on the 1st of December. It will be remembered that the three districts were consolidated on the 1st of May last, the whole being placed under the charge of Col. FOWLER of the Third District. The records of the three offices have been consolidated, and the accounts of credits and quotas adjusted and closed. Under the State Bounty Act of last Winter, those who furnished substitutes under the calls of July 18 and Dec. 19 last, were entitled to reimbursements, and the clerks have been busy ever since adjusting their claims. All is now complete, and there being no necessity for their existence, the records will be removed to the office of Capt. WAGNER, No. 65 Third-avenue, New-York, where the records of the first ten districts of New-York may be consulted by those interested. An auction for the sale of the wheels, office furniture, &c., will take place at No. 236 Washington-street, W. D., this morning.

DEATH OF REV. JOHN F. BOOTH.—Rev. JOHN F. BOOTH, Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the Tabernacle, expired at his residence in Leonard-street, near Meserole, Greenpoint, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. The congregation of which the deceased was pastor are building a new edifice at the head of Noble-street, and since the laying of the corner-stone, Mr. BOOTH has continually exposed himself in watching and directing its progress. His death is believed to have been hastened by this exposure. He was a young and energetic minister, and exercised a marked influence over all with whom he came in contact. He was the brother of the Mayor elect of Brooklyn.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Mr. J. DE SOTA, residing at No. 72½ Conselyea-street, E. D., reports that on Friday night last, about 11:30 o'clock, while on his way home from New-York, he was met by two ruffians at the corner of Lorimer and Ainslie streets, who knocked him down and robbed him of a gold watch and chain, valued at $250, and a pocket-book containing $17 50, with which they escaped.

SUPPOSED INFANTICIDE.—The body of a female infant, apparently only about twenty-four hours old, was found in a ditch at the head of Prospect-street, on the meadows between Jersey City and Hoboken, at an early hour Sunday morning. The body was wrapped in the waist of a woman's dress, and was packed in a paper box. It bore no marks of violence, but as medical tests revealed the fact that the child had been born alive, it is supposed to be a case of infanticide. The police of Hoboken, into whose charge the matter was given, have, as yet, been unable to find any clue to the perpetrator of the inhuman act.

HUMBOLDT AND HOOFLAND.—Which is the greatest! While the one has explored the almost inaccessible mountain regions of South America, and added largely to our geographical knowledge, the other has given his attention to the mitigation of human suffering, and in his invention of the famous German Bitters, known in this country as HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, has conferred an invaluable boon upon mankind. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Nervous Debility are speedily and permanently cured by this remedy. For sale by druggists everywhere, and are not alcoholic.—Exchange Paper.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist, No. 594 Broadway.

To pick a pocket is simply a crime against a single individual, but to put into the market vile imitations of that richest of all perfumes, PHALON'S NIGHT-BLOOMING CEREUS, is at once a public robbery and a dirty attempt to father a pestilent abomination upon an honorable firm.—Danville North Star.

THE AFRICAN.

EXTRA ADVERTISEMENT.

The Director of the Italian Opera takes pleasure in announcing the production, in New-York, of the illustrious Meyerbeer's remarkable posthumous work, but a short time after its original production in Paris, and London, and in advance of most all the other capital cities in Europe.

When the relative geographical position of the three musical capitals is considered, together with the comparative facilities afforded at each for bringing out a composition of such rare importance, the American public will readily perceive that unusual energy has been demanded in the effort to preserve to the New-York. Academy of Music the leading place, which, in the estimation of the well-informed and impartial, it occupies besides the grand Opera-houses in Paris and London.

FRIDAY EVENING, Dec. 1,

and

SATURDAY EVENING, Dec. 2,

are the dates fixed upon for the first two performances of

L'AFRICAINE.

The heavy cost incurred in procuring, immediately after its production in Paris, the copy of the original score and instrumental parts, the extensive and costly preparations which this grand work entail on any management that may undertake its production, the complicated machinery that has to be made expressly for running the new scenery, the novel dresses that are needed, and other endless outlays for general mise en scene and appointments, exceed any precedent; besides, which, the Orchestra, and Chorus have been largely augmented, and an unusually large auxiliary force is necessary for the production of this great Lyric Drama.

Owing to the near approach of the close of the season, L'AFRICAINE can only be presented a FEW TIMES—not often enough, in fact, to reimburse the Director for the liberal outlay made; and but for the earnest desire to keep his promise and to meet public expectation, the Director would hardly feel justified in producing it at present. Believing, however, that the public and the patrons of the Opera will appreciate his efforts and recognize the integrity of his motive, the Director has decided to present this most attractive work upon the concluding nights of the present season.

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC!

DR. VON EISENBERG'S

ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON,

THE CELEBRATED APPARATUS.

From the New-York Express.

So many able and earnest men are devoting themselves to medical investigation, that it would be strange if new discoveries were not made. Among the most brillant of these—we may indeed say the most brilliant of all—is that of Dr. VON EISENBERG, in regard to the Etherealization of Medicines: we may properly call it the "Spiritualization," since the Latin Spiritus, whence comes our word "Spiritual," signifies primarily, simply 'the air."

Many of the most important and vital organs of the human frame cannot be reached by medicines in a solid or even in a liquid form. Thus the lungs are shut up in a bony chest to which access can be had only through the wind-pipe, the opening of which is closed by a valve, called the "epiglottis," so sensitive and so delicately constructed, that it will not allow the passage, except by main force, of the most minute crumb, or the smallest drop of liquid. Every person who has "swallowed the wrong way" the smallest substance, whether of liquid or solid, knows the feeling of strangulation thereby occasioned. A man cannot, if he would, voluntarily swallow any liquid or solid into the lungs, or the passage leading to them. Herein lies the true reason why Consumption has been so incurable.

As to the entire apparatus, we have no hesitation in saying that we regard it as a wonderful invention—one that, were it not so costly, we have little doubt would be adopted by every hospital and medical college in the country. We are satisfied it would well repay, even if he had to journey all the way from Europe, the scientific man to see and examine it. It is a marvel of mechanical complexity, and yet, when its multiform uses are considered, of extreme simplicity and great beauty. That it will in every respect fulfill the expectations of the inventor, we have every reason to believe. It has been constructed with an accurate knowledge of its ultimate uses. One so experienced in the specialities for which it is particularly intended as is Dr. Von Eisenberg, and for which he has long felt the necessity in his practice, could make no failure. With it he is enabled to surmount obstacles that were hitherto deemed all but impossible to control. He can now approach with certainty and diagnose thoroughly every disease that, in the course of his extended practice, he aims to master. To those, therefore, who are in any way afflicted with loss of sight or hearing, with catarrh, bronchitis, chest or lung diseases, we earnestly suggest a visit to the consulting apartments of Dr. VON EISENBERG. There he will be speedily made to know the possibility of a cure in even complicated cases. We hereto observe that the apparatus is intended also to bring the etherealized medicines into direct action upon the nerves. The nervous system is the source of many diseases. All physicians admit this, and all profess at least to be able to apply a remedy. The Allopathic, Homeopathic and Hydropathic, by prescribing opiates, anodynes, &c., may, and do, alleviate the pain arising from impaired or diseased nerves; but this does not restore the nerve, it is only temporary relief—a relief, too, to some one nerve at the expense of the entire system. The Æsthetico-Neuralgicon of Dr. Von Eisenberg not merely allays the irritation, but restores the nerve to its normal condition. The Doctor's theory is, that each nerve has a specific office, and has its own peculiar susceptibility. Thus, for example, the nerve of vision is insensible to touch; and, on the other hand, the nerve of touch is insensible to light, and so on through the whole system.

From the Journal of Commerce.

We think it is but just to Dr. Von Eisenberg to call public attention to him. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, if not actually praying for death, who are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, trifle not with inexperienced men, but consult, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to assure his patients whether it is in his power to make them whole or not.

HEARING RESTORED BY A SINGLE APPLICATION OF THE ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON.

READ! READ!

NEW-YORK, May 4, 1865.

I have been induced, by the great number of certificates continually published in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's skill, to apply to him for advice concerning my deafness of many years' standing. I placed myself under his care, and to my utmost delight he made me hear perfectly well by a single painless application of Dr. Von Eisenberg's "Æsthetico-Neuralgicon." I have great pleasure in being able to state that his skill in restoring hearing surpasses anything I ever saw or heard of. His attention to the patient is highly commendable.

MIRACULOUS CURE OF THE CHRONIC CATARRH, ASSUMING THE FORM OF CONSUMPTION.

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, and a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting of blood. I have been treated by many eminent physicians without success. Recently the Catarrh became so offensive that I could not go into society. Hearing of DR. VON EISENBERG'S new invention, I thought I would apply to him as a last resource. Having been satisfied with his diagnosis, I submitted to his treatment, and have every reason to be abundantly satisfied, as I am completely cured, and my health so much renovated that I feel better than I felt for the last fifteen years. It is a blessing that experience gives the Doctor the power to restore such a shattered constitution to perfect vigor. I now feel very happy to be able to give this testimonial in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's inimitable skill.

RESTORATION OF SIGHT.

I, Lawrence Grenna, No. 186 East 36th-st., New-York City, have been suffering from blindness of the left eye for a considerable period. The eye was continually in a state of great inflammation, from which the good eye became affected, and, indeed, my general health was greatly injured by it. Hearing of Dr. Von Eisenbergs' great reputation, and as every one said mine was a hopeless case, I called on the Doctor, who, after examining me, undertook my case, and within a fortnight I found myself almost completely cured. It is now a month since I placed myself under Dr. Von Eisenberg's treatment, and I am happy to be able to state that the inflammation is entirely gone, so that I see perfectly with both eyes, added to which I am in good health—a blessing I have not enjoyed since I was blind. I do conscientiously and gratefully swear to the above statement, in a court of justice, at the City Hall of the City of New-York, the 10th day of October, 1864.

LAWRENCE GRENNA.

NEW-YORK, March 21, 1863.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK—Dear Sir: I feel it a duty I owe to you, and all who are suffering under the disease known as consumption and liver complaint, to let them know what great benefits I have received from your Pulmonic Syrup and Sea-Weed Tonic in so short a time. By the blessing of God, it has cured me thus far. Dr. Schenck, I will now make my statement to you, as follows: About eighteen months ago, I was attacked with a severe cough, and it settled on my lungs. I could not retain anything I ate, and was very much reduced. The whites of my eyes were very yellow, likewise my skin; my appetite all gone, and unable to digest what I did eat; bowels swollen, irregular and costive. I was very low-spirited, and had such violent spells of coughing when I lay down at night, and when I rose in the morning, that they would last one or two hours. I then would be nearly exhausted, and was entirely unable to lie on my left side. I cannot describe my wretched suffering as I would wish to do. Every organ in my body was diseased or deranged. Such was my situation at this time; and I was confined to my bed from the last of February, 1862, to June, 1862, not able to sit up. I had the best of medical attendance the whole of the time. My cough was so very bad it racked me very much. I at this time raised a large quantity of thick, yellow, offensive matter, sometimes with blood, and it was generally accompanied by nausea and a furred and thick-coated tongue. At the time of coughing so badly, I would have sharp, shooting pains in my left side and heart, night sweats and soreness all through my whole chest; had much inward fever, pains in my back and under my shoulder blades and in the small of my back, and at times so severe that it would throw me into spasms. Now my physicians gave me up to die. Others I had, and the best of them; but they could do nothing for me, and at that time I was nothing but skin and bones. I then was in the western part of Missouri. In June last we left there for the East, and in August last we came to New-York, and I was so reduced that I could only walk a little with my husband's help. After I had been there a short time the salt water breeze made me feel much better for a time, and then I had again to call a physician for aid. We had four of the best physicians in New-York on the diseases of the lungs, and doctors of all kinds, but of no avail. They said that I was past cure, and that my lungs were too far gone for any one to cure me. But at this time I was on my feet about the house, not able to do much of anything. In November last I grew worse, and the consumption diarrhea set in, and lasted about eight weeks. We had tried all and everything I could grasp at, like a dying person, for my diseases—consumption and liver complaint—but of no avail. In January, 1863, I was brought down again on my bed, and was not expected to live the night out. My husband staid at my side, with other friends, and and they all gave me up to die. At this time, every one who saw me did not think I would ever leave my bed a living woman. The first night I was attacked with spasms, and was deranged most of the time. A friend, Mrs. Harris, came in to see me the last of the week, and brought the Sunday Mercury. In it was an account of a wonderful cure performed by Dr. Schenck. She read it to me, and it was so much like my disease that I asked my husband to go and see him for me. At this time I had given up all hope of ever getting well again, and made my peace with God, to be ready whenever He called for me. On the 27th of January, 1863, my husband called on Dr. Schenck, No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, and stated to him my case, with a request for him to call and see me, which he did, and examined me with the the respirometer. When he was about to go, I asked him if he could cure me. His reply was: "I cannot tell; both lungs are diseased, and the bronchial tubes are affected on both sides." And yet he seemed to think there were lungs enough left to effect a cure if the diarrhea could be stopped. He said, in order to do this, he would give me Mandrake Pills, in small doses at first, to carry off the morbid matter, and then, with astringents, he hoped to check it, which he did; but the constant coughing, night-sweats and diarrhea, had prostrated me so that he was afraid my vital powers were too much prostrated ever to rally; and yet he seemed to think if I could live to get enough Pulmonic Syrup through my system to cause expectoration, there were lungs enough left for me to recover. He wished me to try the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic at once, saying it would do me no harm, if it done me no good. I that night commenced taking a table spoonful three times a day each. The first week it seemed to give me strength, so that on Sunday after I sat up in bed and eat hearty for a sick woman; but the next week I lost all hope, and wished my husband not to give me any more medicine. But the doctor had warned him of this, that when the medicine was clearing out the system it made them feel sometimes restless, but to persevere; and he insisted on my taking it; and now I feel the benefit of it, for after eight days I began to gain my strength, and, with the exception of a cold, that put me back some, I have been gaining strength of body; my cough is going away, and all my pains are gone; no soreness on the body; my bowels are regular and my breath is sweet, and I thank God that I am now going about and sew and read as well as ever I could. I have taken sixteen bottles of the medicine, eight of each. I have now a good appetite and rest well at night; my cough does not trouble me save in getting up or laying down. I would here say to the afflicted with consumption or liver complaint, that Dr. Schenck is no humbug. You can rely on what he says. Delay not; it is dangerous to trifle with the disease. If you would be cured, go at once; and any one wishing to know the facts as herein stated can call at my residence, No. 117 West Houston-st., New-York City.

MRS. MARY F. FARLOW.

We, the undersigned, residents of New-York, are acquainted with Mrs. FARLOW, and know her statement to be true. We also know that she used Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, and have reason to believe that to this medicine she owes her preservation from a premature grave.

Editorial from New-York Citizen, Sept. 2, 1865.

Dr. LIGHTHILL, who has already placed himself before the judgment of the world and his professional peers in various essays on deafness, catarrh, the progress of aural surgery, and diseases of the respiratory system, is the inventor of a most ingenious mechanical appliance, called the Nephotherapon, for the introduction of remedial agents into the larynx, trachea, bronchial and eustachian tubes and lungs, without causing any disturbance to the nervous or muscular systems of the patient. The importance of this discovery cannot be overestimated, supplying, as it does, to medical science the means of applying topical and direct treatment to internal organs heretofore inaccessible. The system of inhalation, as ordinarily applied, though not without its advantages, failed to convey the various therapeutic agents in a sufficiently strong or active form to the parts affected, and no medicines could be thus employed which were not essentially of a volatile nature. By the Nephotherapon, however, any remedial agents judged necessary for the lungs or air-passages can be at once and painlessly—indeed, almost unconsciously to the patient—introduced in the form of a spray, so fine and delicate as to resemble the misty air we are in the habit of breathing at early dawn on the mountain sides, or in the valleys, of the Catskill or Adirondack ranges. So fine and impalpable is this medicated mist that it is only by holding the hand in it for some seconds that we can notice its dampness; and by this new system any medicine, and in any quantity deemed essential, can be internally applied to the lungs or air-passages without any of the convulsive chokings which follow when—to use a popular phrase—some crumb or drop of liquid "goes the wrong way." Of course the success of this system must depend on the accuracy of the diagnosis and the propriety and effectiveness of the remedial agents employed. But, as furnishing a mechanical means for the direct introduction of therapeutic agents into the lungs, the importance of the Nephotherapon will be acknowledged by all professional men who have had experience in this class of cases.

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.

The great reputation of our CABINET ORGANS has induced dealers, in some cases, to advertise quite different instruments as CABINET ORGANS, and in others, to represent to purchasers that Harmoniums or other Reed Organs are essentially the same thing. This is not true. The excellences of the CABINET ORGANS, which have given them their high reputation, arise not merely from the superiority of their workmanship, but also, in large measure, from essential differences of construction, which, being patented, cannot be imitated by other makers. Purchasers are requested to observe that every CABINET ORGAN has upon its name-board, in full, the words "MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGAN." When a dealer represents any other instrument as a Cabinet Organ, it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior instrument on which he can make a larger profit.

MANY THOUSANDS ARE RUINED BEYOND REDEMPTION in this life by not calling on Dr. HUNTER sooner or later. He can cure the worst cases of secret disease in a shorter time than any other physician, or no pay taken. Skeptics and doubters will please call and read lists of reliable certificates of cures made within the last thirty years of almost hopeless cases, that had had the benefit of dozens of our most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. Hunter is in constant attendance from 8 in the morning till 9 at night, at his old office, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, since 1834. Charges moderate, and a cure guaranteed. Separate rooms, so that the patient sees no one but the Doctor himself. His wonderful medical discovery, DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures private diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, and possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. $2 per vial. Book, 50 pages, gratis, on nervous debility, causes of impotency, marasmus, &c.

Gov. Parsons' Statement About the Behavior of Gen. Wilson's Troops.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1865.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

At the meeting of the "American Union Commission," at the Cooper Institute on Monday evening, Gov. PARSONS, of Alabama, made the assertion that when Gen. WILSON, at the head of the Western Cavalry, entered Selma, Ala., "the whole city was given up to the possession of the soldiers. That every house was sacked but two, and that every woman was robbed of her watch, her ear-rings, her finger-rings, her jewelry of all descriptions, and this, too, in a city of nearly ten thousand inhabitants."

I was associated with that cavalry for three years, and their good name is made dear to me by many an arduous campaign and hard-fought battle, in which I participated with them. And knowing them and their officers as I do, I unhesitatingly pronounce that statement utterly untrue, and a vile slander on a gallant General and his brave soldiers.

I have no doubt Gov. PARSONS related this just as it had been represented to him, and perhaps had no intention to misrepresent the facts in the case; but it is high time that stop is put to such false and mischievous reports of the barbarity of our Northern soldiers. It is a subject of wonder that one occupying the high position of Gov. PARSONS should lend himself to the publication of such a statement.

And now please allow me a word about the objects of that meeting at the Cooper Institute.

Anything that has for its object the encouragement of the industrial and educational interests of the South, and the mental and moral elevation of its people, will always have the cordial support of every man who has the interests of the whole country at heart. But "charity begins at home," and it does seem to me that instead of putting our hands in our pockets to aid those who have caused so much ruin and misery to the country and themselves, we ought first to adequately provide for those brave men who have become crippled or otherwise disabled in the service of their country.

It makes my heart bleed to see them in the streets of this great city literally begging their bread. Men who have laid their all upon the altar of their country. We need societies for promoting their comfort and welfare. It seems to me that as the Southern people have brought their woes upon their own heads, their claims might at least wait until the claims of our gallant soldiers have been recognized. Let us by all means be generous to a fallen enemy, but let us first be just to our friends. Yours, truly, T. B. ROBERTS.

PROF. HAMILTON'S COLUMN

DIED YESTERDAY.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES.

Every day is written this little sentence: "Died yesterday." Every day a flower is plucked from some sunny home—a breach is made in some happy circle—a jewel is taken from some treasury of love by the ruthless hand of the angel of death. Each day from the Summer fields of life some harvest disappears. Yes, every moment some cherished sentinel drops from the rugged ramparts of time into the surging waves of eternity. Even as we write, the church-bell tolls the doleful funeral knell of one who "died yesterday;" its solemn tones chill the blood in our veins, and make the heart sad indeed.

"Died yesterday." Who died? Perhaps it was a gentle, innocent babe, sinless as an angel, pure as the zephyr's gentle music, and whose laugh was as gushing as the Summer rills loitering in a rose bower—whose life was but a perpetual litany—a May-time crowned with blooming, delicate flowers which never fade. Or mayhap it was a youth, hopeful and promising—possessing the fire and animation of perennial life—whose path was strewed with sweet flowers of rarest beauty and verdure, with no serpent lurking beneath—one whose soul panted for communion with the great and good—but that heart is still now; he "died yesterday."

"Died yesterday." Daily, men, women and children are passing away; and hourly, in some lonely, silent graveyard, the cold, cheerless sod drops upon the coffin-lid of the dead. As often in the morn we find some rare flower that had blushed sweetly in the sunset has withered forever, so daily, when we rise from our couch to labor at our posts, we miss some kind, cheerful soul, whose existence, perhaps, was dearly and sacredly entwined with our own, and had served as a beacon-light to our weary footsteps. But they are now gone, and future generations will know not their worth or appreciate their precepts. Yes, remember each day some sacred pearl drops from the jewel thread of friendship—some sweet heavenly lyre to which we have been wont to listen has been hushed forever.

READ! READ! READ!

We hereby notify the public that Prof. R. LEONIDAS HAMILTON, M. D., the most celebrated Liver, Lung and Blood Physician of this or any age, has, after an experience and success unparalleled in the history of medicine for over a quarter of a century, demonstrated the fact that the Liver is the main purifier or strainer through which the blood and fluids of the body are cleansed from all poisonous qualities; and that obstructions and derangements in the natural action of this vital organ are the first and primary cause of all abnormal conditions of the system of a general nature.

If you wish to know whether you have a deranged liver and digestive organs, see the following:

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, with frequent headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, dryness of the throat, and internal heat; palpitation of the heart; in many cases a dry teasing cough, with sore throat; unsteady appetite; sour stomach, with a raising of the food, and choking sensation in the throat, which is often attributed to worms; sickness and vomiting; distress, heaviness, or a bloated and full feeling about the stomach and sides, which is often attended with pains and tenderness; aggravating pains in the sides, back or breast, and about the shoulders; restlessness at night, with a tired and sore feeling of the whole body on rising in the morning; colic, pain and soreness through the bowels, with heat; constipation of the bowels, alternating with frequent attacks of diarrhea; piles; flatulence; nervousness; all-gone feelings; thick, turbid or high-colored urine; coldness of the extremities; rush of blood to the head, with symptoms of apoplexy; numbness of the limbs, especially at night; tenderness and fullness in right side, which often extends to the left; cold chills, alternating with hot flashes; female weaknesses and irregularities; fainting fits, etc.

Another very prominent and common symptom is the peculiar lowness of spirits and gloomy forebodings of the unfortunate sufferer; persons of naturally buoyant and cheerful dispositions are often changed to dull, morose and desponding hypochondriacs; those before amiable and sprightly become peevish, irritable, and unsociable; in short, undergo an entire change of manner and character.

Dear reader, if you have any or all of the above-mentioned symptoms, Prof. Hamilton has remedies that will strike at the root of them as by magic. There is no such word as fail in his treatment. By them the liver and stomach are speedily changed to an active, healthy state, the appetite regulated and restored, blood and secretions thoroughly purified and enriched, and the whole system renovated and built up anew.

It depends much upon the length of time the difficulty has been existing, organization of the particular system affected, climate, general habits, occupation, sex, etc. Of course, the longer the derangement the more numerous the systems of internal discord. If nature, in her salutary struggles to relieve the blood from its poisonous qualities, throws or deposits the greater portion of it upon the lungs, there is at once more or less cough with eventually all the long train of symptoms of consumption. If the bowels receive most of the poisonous deposit, diarrhea, dysentery, piles, bilious colic, etc., are the result. If the stomach receive it instead, dyspepsia, cholera morbus, cramps and pains in the stomach, sick headache, heartburn and other unpleasant symptoms. If the billious matter is thrown to the skin, all kinds of eruptions and skin diseases are produced. It is a law of animal economy that, to be natural and free, the body must throw off all worn-out and poisonous irritating materials, by the process called secretion and excretion, as fast as it takes on new particles by assimilation and nutrition. Now I have ascertained by experiments that the majority of all this worn-out bilious matter taken up by the blood from the system is separated from it by the liver, when in a healthy condition, and then thrown into the bowels and passed off with the excretions. By this you see the moment the liver becomes affected from any cause, it fails to separate the offensive matter from the blood and fluids to an extent proportionate to the torpidity or disorder of the organ; consequently, nature seeks other outlets through which she can rid the blood of its unhealthy mass, when it is thrown to the surface through the pores of the skin, which it irritates, and if the unnatural process is continued long, various forms of rashes, blotches, eruptions, sores, ulcers, boils, swellings, etc., are induced, such as are seen in different persons and localities of the globe.

So with all kinds of fits and nervous diseases; the same poison matter that is naturally, and should be, taken up by the liver, is left in the blood, and if the brain and nervous system is weakened by overaction or any cause, they are thrown in a negative position, which renders them incapable of resisting the accumulation, and the consequence is, irregular action of the brain and nervous system takes place, and in their efforts to free themselves of the offending substances, convulsions or fits of various kinds are produced, in all degrees of severity, from the slightest fainting fit to the most dangerous cases of apoplexy or epilepsy. Should the irritation settle, and be confined to the general nerves of the system, neuralgia and all grades of nervous affections supervene, from the most intense pains and irritability to the simple restlessness so often fonnd in females of a delicate and imperfect organization. Restlessness is at night produced from the same: and nervous headache, drowsiness, heaviness, dizziness, roaring, buzzing, and singing in the ears and head, dimness of sight, deafness, throbbing or darting pains in the head. If the bilious matter should settle upon the mucous membrane that lines the stomach, throat and bowels, then we find the following symptoms or manifestations of the internal disarrangement, namely: waterbrash, heartburn, sickness and vomiting, colic, pains in the sides, stomach, bowels, back or breast, sick headache, palpitation of the heart, wind in the stomach, with distress and fullness, choking spells, heat and dryness in the throat, bad taste in the mouth, canker in the mouth and throat, bad breath, thirst, cold chills, alternating with hot flashes, dysentery, diarrhea, cholera and cholera morbus, sour stomach, with raising of the food, unsteady appetite, constipation of the bowels, all-gone feelings, &c. Every one of the above symptoms will often be found to increase where there appears to be a natural susceptibility to affections of this nature.

PART SECOND.

CONTINUATION OF PROF. HAMILTON'S THEORY.

Hoarseness, spitting blood, bronchitis, asthma, or phthisic, and consumption are produced by the same cause. The bilious material is thrown upon the delicate membrane that lines the air passages—irritation, with cough; more or less severe soreness through the throat, breast, sides, back, or shoulders, or pains of various degrees of severity; and unless something is done immediately to relieve nature, inflammation will supervene, followed by ulceration, night sweats, cold chills, hectic fever, raising of matter, with perhaps a little blood, diarrhea, sore mouth and throat, etc., which are indications of a powerful effort of nature to relieve the system of poisonous, bilious material which has fastened itself upon the most delicate and sensitive organs in the human system, the lungs and air passages.

In connection with the above cause, we have another, which is not understood by physicians, and that is, a superabundance of action of the lungs; or, in other words, they have been compelled to labor too hard. That the machine may run well, all parts must be kept well oiled and properly balanced. Thus it is with the human system. God, whose hands so daintily fashioned this wonderful body, has allotted to each organ a specific amount of labor, which, if properly and faithfully performed, will cause it to run smoothly and easily through life. But the moment one organ attempts to shirk the usual amount of labor upon a neighboring organ, that moment the harmony of the system is destroyed, and the organ, overtasked by its increased action, becomes, as a natural consequence, enfeebled, and, no longer able to perform even its ordinary amount of work, falls into decay.

Suppose, for instance, that the action of the heart—the tiny seat of life—has become impaired, and, instead of performing its customary amount of labor, is now performing only half as much as it should do—what is the result? In all cases where there is a lack of action in the liver, digestive organs and heart, the lungs are necessarily brought into powerful action, and are obliged to perform the work of their neighbors as well as their own proper functions. The labor imposed upon the lungs is therefore greatly in excess of what it should be in a normal condition, producing irritation, inflammation, and ultimately ulceration, general prostration, and consumption. In brief, the above are the causes that lead to all cases of lung disease, throat affections, and catarrh. Now, the natural and proper treatment for the full and permanent cure of all such complaints is simple, safe, and reliable. Instead of applying remedial agents to the lungs exclusively, we have, by past experience, learned that other organs should be aroused to action at once, and be compelled to perform as much exertion as the lungs have been compelled to perform.

Prof. R. Leonidas Hamilton, M. D., having for many years given his whole time to the treatment and investigation of Chronic Diseases, more especially of the Liver and Blood, and having been long and favorably known in every State and Territory of the Union as the most skillful and successful physician in the cure of Chronic Diseases, being formerly Professor of Materia Medica, Theraputics, Pharmacy, Medical Botany, and Diseases of Females and Children, in Central Medical College; also, Physician to the New-York College of Health and the Central City Hospital, &c., have placed opportunities within his reach of no mean importance, and have largely added to his skill and experience.

Remember, Prof. R. L. Hamilton is the only physician in the world that has made Liver, Lung, and Blood Diseases a specialty for a whole lifetime, and the only one that has written a full and true theory of the origin and certain cure of such complaints. Prof. H. has now perfected a class of New Specific Remedies, that does not fail to cure, speedily and permanently, where the system has not entirely broken down.

After having successfully treated over one hundred and fifty thousand cases of Liver, Lung, and Blood Diseases throughout the United States and British North America, the people can have no excuse for doubting his skill and ability to cope with all diseases to which the human family are subject. The name and fame of Prof. R. Leonidas Hamilton, M. D., has become a household word throughout this continent, and the mere mention of his name is a sufficient guarantee that the public may place full confidence in his worth and reliability. By the new system of treatment adopted by Prof. Hamilton, all chronic diseases are FULLY AND PERMANENTLY CURED, with more speed and certainty than any other known method. In a majority of cases, CURES ARE MADE IN ONE QUARTER THE TIME usually required by other systems; and also there is another advantage to be gained, which is of great benefit to the laboring classes and that is, no mineral or poison remedies are given. Consequently patients are in no danger of exposure, and need not be kept from work, or compelled to change diet or general habits of everyday life.

Important and Reliable.

EPILEPTIC FITS!!

New and Wonderful Testimonials in Favor of Professor Hamilton's Great Success in Curing Chronic Diseases.

A PROTRACTED AND SEVERE CASE PERMANENTLY CURED.

Read the following evidence of what my treatment has done in a case of this disease, hitherto considered incurable:

BUCKHART, Ill., Oct. 18, 1865.

DR. HAMILTON: My wife was afflicted with fits for ten years, attended with great spinal and nervous debility. She doctored with several physicians, but all to no purpose. I read one of your circulars, and was so impressed with your new and simple theory of disease that I determined to try your remedies. Every one in the neighborhood cried "humbug," but, thank God, failed to dissuade us from our purpose. As you know, we sent for some of your remedies, which, with the help of God, have completely and permanently cured her. She has not had a fit since; her back is strong, and her nervous vitality and strength have returned. As every attack she had was severer than the one previous, it is reasonable to suppose she could not have lived long, but for the timely interference of your wonderful skill. To God be the praise, for so speedily and miraculously have your remedies worked, that I can but recognize you as an instrument of divine power in rescuing my dear companion from a terrible death. Words can but inadequately express my gratitude and joy. I wish you to publish this, and spread it far and near. I deem it my solemn duty to all afflicted with this awful malady to do all in my power to make known to them the true physician, and if any doubt the authenticity of this let them write to me; I will satisfy them that it is all true. May God's blessing attend you in your efforts for humanity's good. JOHN S. SHARP.

P. S.—If you desire, I will go before a Justice of the Peace and make affidavit to the foregoing. It may tend to make "assurance doubly sure" to a certain class of incredulous beings who are always ready to cry "humbug" at every new invention.

POINTVILLE, N. J., June 26, 1865.

Prof. R. L. Hamilton:

DEAR SIR: I have purposely delayed writing in order to give you the results of your remedies. The medicines came to hand in due time, and I commenced using them as instructed, and have persevered. For the first week I could not see much change; the second week there seemed to be a giving way of the disease; and at the end of the third week a decided change for the better was manifest. I am now able to walk about with ease and comfort. I send you my sincere and many thanks, and pray that God may bless and preserve your life for many years. I feel that, under the blessing of Divine Providence, you have done great things for me. Yours, truly,

Rev. I. HUGG.

READ THE TESTIMONY OF MR. ZACHARIAH K. POST, CLERK IN THE NEW-YORK POST-OFFICE.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, NEW-YORK CITY, Oct. 2, 1865.

DR. HAMILTON: After suffering long years with liver and blood disease in a severe form, and being dosed by physicians of different schools to no purpose other than an injurious one, I am now, after taking your remedies so short a time, perfectly healthy and free, not only from all disease, but also from the effects of poisonous minerals with which my system has been drugged. In simple justice to your great professional abilities, and gratitude for your kind attention, do I furnish this statement, which I will promptly corroborate by letter, if any doubt its authenticity. Most heartily do I recommend all afflicted with Liver, Blood or Lung disease to Prof. Hamilton. Very gratefully,

ZACHARIAH K. POST, New-York P. O.

FANDON, Allemakee Co., Iowa, Sept. 20, 1865.

DEAR DOCTOR: I feel that it would be injustice to you as well as myself not to acknowledge what you have done for me. Last year I was sick, attended by two said to be good physicians, and given up to die. A neighbor of mine wrote to you for me stating my disease, and you answered you could and would cure me. Your medicines were received, and after taking them until I was able to sit up to have my bed made, my family doctor called, and seeing how fast I was gaining, said it was not your remedies that were benefiting me so much, but his, and made me believe it. I stopped taking yours and continued taking his until I realized it was killing me, and then commenced to take yours again, and soon recovered, and have been well ever since. I am able to perform the most arduous manual labor, which I have not done in sixteen years. My family physician, (the one who doctored me) said the other day, "Mr. Beeman, had it not been for Prof. Hamilton you would have died last Summer in spite of all we could do." I submit the case of my wife for your consideration, with every confidence that you can do as well by her as you have done by me.

Believe me ever gratefully and truly yours,

CYRUS BEEMAN.

A TRULY WONDERFUL CURE.

DENMARK, Oxford County, Me.

MY DEAR SIR: Believing a statement of my case would be a benefit to the public, or more especially to a person similarly diseased, I send you this certificate. One year ago last June, I was taken with a very severe pain in my right side. It continued to grow worse, until I was obliged to stop all kinds of business, and finally took my bed the most of the time. The pain was so bad I could get no rest night or day. I suffered beyond all description. I had the advice and counsel of the best physicians in the State, and they could do me no good. All they gave me was blue pill and morphine.

I commenced growing worse until about the middle of August, when I had an abscess break on my liver; it discharged through the lungs, some pint and a half, or more, the first twenty-four hours, and then every twenty-four hours until December following it discharged from half to one pint, and then commenced to fill up again, for two weeks, when it broke again, and continued to do so every two weeks all Winter, till the middle of February, when they would rise and break every few days. It seems to me I raised a barrel of thick matter, or puss; it was about the color of blood; perhaps not quite as red; it reduced me so that I was a complete skeleton; the doctors all told me I must die, and that soon; they gave me nothing but morphine to ease the pain; they said I could not live more than two weeks, at most; I couldn't sit up at all—not long enough to have my bed made; I coughed and raised more than any person in a consumption; I tried all the patent medicines of the day, and everything that could be thought of, and grew worse all the time. My side was so sore (outside) I couldn't bear my clothes to touch it; and, to sum it all up, I was in a very bad fix, any way.

A friend of mine got one of your papers and brought it to me to look at; I read some of it and thought I would try you—I could but die any way; I had but little hope, there was so much humbug in the world. I wrote you, I think, in March; your answer was you could cure me, and sent me some medicine; I commenced taking it the last of April; I commenced getting better from the first dose, and continued to until I was quite well. The sore never stopped discharging to fill up until after I commenced taking your medicine, and the discharge grew less every day until completely healed up, which was some time in August, since which time my health never was better. I can do as good a day's work as any other man, and stand it as well; and I do know it was your medicine that cured me, and I do sincerely and solemnly believe that any person that is sick, (and their case is curable,) that will get your medicine and follow your directions, they will surely get cured. My advice is, friends all, if you are sick, send to Prof. R. L. Hamilton, and he will cure you.

I remain yours forever,

God bless you,

J. B. WATSON.

Wm. C. Down, Esq., of Delaware, Pike County, Penn., writes:

"I have been through with a course of your treatment, and can affirm before God that your medicines will do all you claim for them. They are no humbug. Several persons in this vicinity have used them, and have derived entire satisfaction. Your theory of the cause and treatment of disease is simple and reasonable. Its correctness is fully vindicated by the success of your practice. I am daily recommending you, and you will soon have a more extended practice in this neighborhood. I shall be most glad to vouch for the authenticity of this. I am aware that people at a distance feel a degree of hesitancy in placing their health in the care of physicians whom they had never seen, or perhaps never heard of. To those that are inclined to be thus incredulous I can say that Dr. Hamilton undertakes nothing but what he thoroughly understands, and always gives careful attention to all who place themselves under his care."

NORTH TRURO, Barnstable Co., Mass., March 21, 1865.

Prof. R. L. Hamilton:

DEAR SIR: Believing a statement of my sickness and wonderful cure would be a benefit to many similarly diseased, I send you this certificate. I cannot remember the time when I was really well. Ten years ago I was taken with a pain in my right side, which at times was very bad; but I was unwilling to give up and call myself sick, and the medicine I got from our family physician doing no good, I suffered in silence. In December, 1863, my side was so swollen and so painful that I could not wear any clothes. While in this condition, Mrs. Emeline Stover, of Industry, Franklin Co., Me., came here on a visit, and told me how your valuable medicine had cured her of liver complaint, and she knew that I had it, but I could not make up my mind to send to you then, and after a time forgot it. My side got no better, and on the 18th of May, 1864, in lifting beyond my strength, I broke the ligament in my back, and was obliged to give out entirely and go to bed. I could not turn myself in bed, and to lift me from one bed to the other, as they did once a week, to make my bed, seemed as though it would take my life. I was obliged to be on my back all the time, my head even with my body. I took my food in this position. What I suffered no one can ever know. My head ached all the time dreadfully, my side grew worse and was very painful, my back very bad; and, to make matters worse, I had so much inflammation in my stomach, side and bowels, that I could not take much that was strengthening. I cannot begin to tell one-half that I had to contend with, and if I could, I doubt if it would be believed. Shortly after I was taken sick I commenced to have sort of fits, and the weaker I got the oftener I had them, and these alone I knew would cause my death, if not soon cured. The first symptom of them would be rapid beating of the heart; next it would seem as though my heart did not beat at all, and my pulse stop and I struggle for breath. The spells would sometimes last an hour, and they have often thought I was dying. My feet and hands would be cold, and have every appearance of death. I had a very good physician, but he did me no good, and I gave myself up to die. One day some friends came to see me, and brought me some things. After they were gone, I took up the paper and noticed your advertisement—read it for want of something else to do—remembered what Mrs. Stover had told me, and resolved to send. You wrote back that you could cure me permanently if I commenced then; said my disease was of the liver and digestive organs. I had faith, and wanted your medicine. I had to talk a great deal to do away with the prejudices of many of my friends. I commenced taking your medicine the 20th of November, and the result was glorious, far beyond my expectations. I began to gain immediately; my headache left me, I slept well, was cheerful, and suffered but little. Still I had no use of my limbs, and no one thought I ever would have again. The second lot of medicine I had, you said, "I will have you on your feet in a month or two at the most." I really laughed at the idea, for I then could not turn myself, move my feet, or hold my head up; but strange as it may seem, in five weeks from that date I was so much better that they put me on my feet, and for the second time learned to walk. I have gained fast ever since. I sit up all day, walk out, and I am about all day. My recovery is looked upon as little short of a miracle by hundreds who know the circumstances; and I often hear the remark, "he must be more than a man who has done this." I have had many to see me in regard to my sad condition. I thank you many times for what you have done for me, and I shall ever remember with gratitude the man who, under God, has cured me of one of the most distressing diseases, the liver complaint.

Respectfully, your friend ever,

JOSEPHINE S. HOLDEN.

AUBURN FOUR CORNERS, Susquehanna Co., Penn.

PROF. HAMILTON: I now improve the present opportunity to inform you of the result of your medicine. It has effected a permanent cure, as the agonizing pain in my right side, which had troubled me for three years, has entirely subsided. My appetite is decidedly better, and the various symptoms which I had at the time of applying to you have all disappeared. My health never was better than at the present time, and I attribute all to the use of your valuable medicine, for which I shall always feel very grateful, and will do all I can to induce my diseased friends and acquaintances to apply to you, for I believe your remedies to be all and everything you claim for them. If I ever need any more medicine, or any of my family, I shall apply to you at once, as I believe it to be the surest, safest, and best to be had.

I remain yours at command,

MRS. J. W. SMITH.

ROSEVILLE, Park Co., Ind., Feb. 9, 1865.

PROF. HAMILTON—Dear Doctor: Your medicines, which I have been taking, have had the desired effect in every particular. All diseases for which you have prescribed have been wholly eradicated, in such a measure that I suffer no inconvenience from them. I am ready, doctor, to hail you as one of the greatest benefactors of the age. May heaven's kindest blessings follow you through life. Yours, with respect,

CYNTHIA JESSUP.

ROCKAWAY, N. J.

R. L. HAMILTON, M.D.—Dear Sir: It is with pleasure that I communicate the result of the use of your medicines. When I first visited your office in New-York, I could scarcely walk from the cars before your door into the office without exhaustion. With all your prestige as a successful physician, I had but little hope that you could cure me. There was nothing strange in this. Four years and four months had passed away, and during that period I had suffered constantly with chronic diarrhea and piles. I had some of the best physicians, and used everything I heard of that I could procure, but all in vain. Why should I think that you could do more than others? But, Sir, justice and gratitude compel me to say that after the use of your medicines for a few months, the result was a complete cure. I ceased the use of your medicines about the 1st of September, and had no return of diarrhea till the 25th of January, 1864, and that attack I could trace to its cause; indeed, Sir, I cannot expect to be freed from liabilities to attacks of disease more than other men. I wish I had the voice of seven thunders, and could assemble the sick in the world, I would direct them to you, Sir, as one fully competent to heal, and whose generous and noble nature would not allow of exorbitant charges.

Yours truly, Rev. GEORGE H. JONES,

Of the Newark Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

GRAVEL CURED.

Mr. George W. Vaughan, of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wis., writes:

"In the fall of 1852 I was taken with a severe affection of the kidneys and bladder. My strength rapidly gave way, to the ravages of my disease until I was literally nothing but a walking shadow. For the first five years of my disease my water was of a cherry red color. At times, substances the size of a bean, resembling clotted blood, would pass off, and at others something resembling coarse sand. My sufferings were well nigh intolerable. I had taken your medicines only two weeks when I felt a decided change for the better. In four weeks I had so far regained my strength that I was able to engage in light work; and now (only two months since I commenced the use of your wonderful remedies) I consider myself a well man. It seems incredible that after suffering so long, and doctoring with so many physicians, and paying so much money, that I should be entirely cured in so short a time and at such trifling expense; yet such is the case, as all my friends and neighbors can testify. Your practice in this vicinity will be unlimited. Many are astonished at such a wonderful cure, and are daily applying to you for relief. Long may you live to bless your race."

The above is a correct copy of the statement transmitted to us. It can be seen by calling at our office. Mr. Vaughan will be most happy to recommend us to any that doubt our ability to cure gravel, and affections arising from diseases of the kidney and bladder.

A CLERGYMAN'S TESTIMONY.

Rev. J. Wesley Quinlan, (Troy Conference,) of Peru, Clinton County, N. Y.:

"I am better in health this Fall than I have been before in five years; my stomach is getting quite strong, my appetite is steady and powerful, my habits are twice as full as they used to be; instead of being all pinched up. I am getting to be quite corpulent; I have never worked so hard, nor preached so much, as this Fall: I have labored two months in a protracted meeting; preached most every night; some sixty souls converted; to God be all the praise. I shall have to write out a statement of my case one of these days, and the great benefit derived from your prescriptions; they have done more for me than all the remedies I ever took. In fact, they are the only medicines that have benefited me."

INCONTROVERTIBLE TESTIMONY—THE CASE OF MRS. PALMER—A COMPLETE AND PERFECT CURE.

Mrs. L. H. Palmer, of Globe Village, Mass., in a series of letters under different dates, gives a history of her case, which, as she says, "was so remarkable that strangers went many miles to see her, the same as they would a great curiosity." "I seem (she writes) to have all the complaints a person can have and live. Indeed, I seem to live but to suffer. I have headache, sore throat, with a general disorganization of the system; am touched with a dry, tight cough, short breath; very costive; have night sweats, and at times afflicted with the piles, which are intolerably painful. Now I suffer with the cold, and again feel burning with the heat. I have not had a menstrual discharge in fifteen months; have sharp, running pains in my hips and kidneys, and my liver is apparently torpid and inactive." The medicines needed by Mrs. P. were at once forwarded, and the benefits derived from them are apparent from the following extract from one of her subsequent letters: "Although I had begun to be encouraged by the slight improvement, yet I felt that a crisis was coming—one which I dared not contemplate. You can imagine my agreeable surprise when I passed the critical period with less pain than I ever felt in my life. From that time I began to improve rapidly; nature seemed to have been aroused under the magical influence of your remedies; my strength returned; my mind appeared to be relieved of all melancholy, and again the pathway of life opened brightly before me......Only last week I returned to my native place, from whence I was taken years ago on my bed, hardly expected by my friends to reach my journey's end alive. When my old acquaintances saw me returning comparatively well, they could hardly believe that such a miracle could be wrought by medicine; they say it seems 'like one raised from the dead' to see me moving round again. As long as I live I shall be a walking advertisement of your truly wonderful healing powers... Words cannot speak my gratitude. Once more I find happiness in living. If I ever succeed in accomplishing any good I shall attribute it all to you."

TESTIMONY OF A PHYSICIAN—A MOST REMARKABLE CURE.

A LADY HAS A SNAKE IN HER STOMACH CAUSING FITS—SHE IS CURED AND THE SNAKE REMOVED.

Dr. L. W. Feuner, Plainwell, Alleghany County, Mich., says:

DEAR DOCTOR: I am happy to say that you were right in your conjecture that the young lady's fits were caused by worms or some foreign substance in the stomach. It proved to be a small snake. After using your medicine prepared for its removal for a few days, the snake was expelled without serious results or any unnatural effects. Since that time she has not had a fit or any symptoms. She has improved in strength and flesh rapidly, and is now seemingly well. She desires me to make known her grateful feelings for relieving her of this horrible disease, produced as it was by so unnatural a cause. I consider it one of the most remarkable cures on record. I will be greatly obliged if you will reply at length to this letter, and state to me what there was in the symptoms I gave you that led you to suppose the true cause—that there were worms, or something of the kind, that caused the fits. I am using several of your different specifics in my practice, and the result of their use has, in all cases thus far treated, been entirely satisfactory. I think your blood and liver pills the best in use. If you will give me a receipt for preparing them, I will endeavor to benefit you as much in some other way. Very truly yours,

L. W. FEUNER, M. D.

A WONDERFUL CURE.

KINTYRE, Winnebago Co., Ill.

Dr. Hamilton:

MY DEAR FRIEND: Believing a statement of my case a benefit to the public, or more especially to those similarly diseased, I give you a full and complete history of my sufferings. I was taken sick at Camp Douglas, Chicago, (having volunteered in Sixty-fifth Illinois Volunteer Infantry,) with what the doctors call pneumonia, or lung fever. I grew worse all the time until May, at which time I got a little better. On the 17th of the month I received a furlough of ninety days to go home, after which time I was taken down worse than ever; so I called Dr. B., of Rockford, Ill., a practicing physician, who examined me and said my case was incurable, as my right lung was all gone, and he could do me no good whatever. I coughed and raised a quart of pus and matter in twenty-four hours. I could not rest night or day, but coughed all the time, and sweat at nights, and in the morning would be dripping with perspiration, and was so weak I could not turn in the bed. I called some of the best physicians in our town and county, but they said they could do me no good. I grew worse all the time, and suffered more than pen or tongue can express. I, too, thought I could not get well, and so did all my friends. I was under the treatment of Dr. S. C., of Rockford, for seven months. He had other doctors come to see me, but they could do me no good. After suffering eighteen months in this way, the doctors declared they could do no more for me. I chanced to get hold of one of your papers from a friend, and I read it, and concluded to try your remedies. But all my friends told me it was of no use, and my doctors said, "What humbugs and impostors you were!" But against all their united influence I wrote to you in July, and you replied that my case indeed was very critical, but you thought you could (if it was the will of God to bless the means) cure me. You sent the medicine, and I used it as directed; I raised more pus than ever for a few days, after which time I was able to get out of bed and go out of doors. I was a complete skeleton. I got weighed the first chance I could, having recruited some time, and my weight at that time was but 90 pounds. I now weigh 155 pounds, and my health is as good as ever, but I do not feel quite as strong; yet I am going back to join my regiment and fight the rebels. Now those doctors that gave me up to die think my lungs are good yet; and if any of them doubt it and want to run me a foot-race, I am ready, and will bet $5 that I can outrun any of them 40 or 80 rods, or a mile if they say so. And it is to you, Dr. Hamilton, I owe my life, for I heartily believe, had I not begun your treatment, I would have been this day in my grave. I will ever remember you. May He "who doeth all things well" watch over and prosper thy hands in every good work for the restoration of suffering humanity. I sincerely advise all the sick, no matter how apparently hopeless their case may be, to apply to you, for I do believe, if their case is curable, you will, by the blessing of God, (in whom you put your trust,) cure them. May God bless you, is my sincere prayer. NEIL WATSON.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

It affords us pleasure to place before the public the following statement of Mrs. Jennie Duncan, a highly respectable lady residing at Bargettstown, Washington County, Penn. Such a testimonial, emanating from a source so worthy, is deserving of a careful perusal.

"I not only claim it a privilege, but consider it a duty I owe my fellow-mortals, to tell them what the valuable remedies of Dr. Hamilton have done for me. It is hoped that some doubting, suffering mortal will, through the perusal of this, be led to apply to those who deservedly rank "honorable as men and scientific as physicians." For some eight or ten years previous to April, 1862, I suffered severely from a pain in my back, underneath my right shoulder blade, sometimes extending into the right side. When my side thus ached, I could not bear an article of clothing fastened around me. I had headache constantly, palpitation of the heart, and was so very nervous that a strange footstep or an unusual noise would startle me, and cause me to tremble like a leaf, my heart beating audibly. But the most horrible of all my sufferings was a smothering sensation. I could not get my breath. Oftentimes I have started from my bed, and run to an open window for relief. Indeed I was often afraid to lay my head upon the pillow, lest I should smother. All the temporary relief I could get from this feeling was in being bled, and my blood was so thick and black that it would not run a drop unless placed in hot water. These, with many other ailments, rendered me a truly miserable being. During this time I was running up heavy bills with eminent physicians. I had swallowed enough medicine to fill one corner of a drug-store, (at least it seemed so to me.) My back was blistered, plastered, cupped, and cold water applied, until I was heartily tired of it. Yet the pain was there, and there it would stay. About this time I was handed a paper containing the theory of Prof. Hamilton's new mode of treatment. It seemed reasonable, and was corroborated by so many testimonials, that although discouraged, I was induced to try it. I sent them a statement of my case, and in due time received their terms and diagnosis of my case. I inclosed the requisite fee and received a course of their treatment. Before I had been under it two weeks I was relieved. No palpitation of the heart, no smothering sensation, no headache. Improved appetite, sweet and refreshing sleep. I advise, nay, entreat all those afflicted, especially those whose symptoms are similar to those enumerated in my case, to at once apply to Dr. Hamilton and get relief.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

Mr. J. H. Jewell, of Troy, Bradford Co., Penn., under date of Dec. 8, writes:

"I am trying to have those that are diseased to send to you at once, and especially those that have the Liver Complaint, as I know that you are sure to cure that every time, as the person is to take your remedies. I know that if it had not been for your remedies, I should have been in my grave long before now, for I was clear gone, as you know; and if my testimony is worth anything to you, you are at liberty to make such use of it as you may see fit, for I feel as if you had saved me from the grave."

THE REMARKABLE TESTIMONY OF A VERY ESTIMABLE LADY.

LUMBERVILLE, Delaware Co., N. Y., Nov. 9.

For the benefit of those who will be prevailed upon to be cured, I will state, as far as practicable, my case and the remedies used. I never enjoyed robust health, and last Spring I became nearly helpless, my strength and appetite failing me altogether, so that it was with great difficulty that I could move about the house at all, and some days unable to leave my bed. I cannot here enumerate my various symptoms, which were painful and alarming. Some of the least were pains in the head and side, faintness and dizziness, distressing hemorrhage, and eruptions, as humors chiefly on my hands and face.

After suffering in this way for about three months, seeking rest and relief and finding none, my friends persuaded me to apply to Prof. Hamilton. I did so. He answered promptly, pronouncing my disease that of the blood and liver, and promised to cure me if I would follow his direction, which I gladly did. In less than one week I began to mend; in three weeks I was able to work, and have labored and improved in health ever since, and think that I enjoy better health now than I have known before in ten years.

I cannot close without entreating the afflicted to apply to Dr. Hamilton for relief. It will be of great import to some to know that you can use his medicines and attend to all the business that you have strength to do, and your strength will improve. This medicine will not sicken you and reduce you as most medicine does; it will renovate and strengthen, and restore to health and happiness. Most truly yours, Mrs. F. C. RERIDE.

DYSPEPSIA AND CONSUMPTION CURED.

Mr. S. Parker, of Alabama, Genesee County, N. Y., writes:

"My wife has wholly recovered since using your medicine. Previous to applying to you, she was unable to take the least food or drink, except corn starch and bread coffee. Her bowels would not move for eighteen days at a time, and then forced by the most unpleasant efforts. Since the third day after taking your medicines she has taken her ordinary meals of rational food with very little inconvenience, and her bowels move regularly and easy. Her feet and limbs, which previously required a jug of hot water day and night for a long time to keep them warm, are now warm enough of themselves. Her nervous debility, which was past endurance, is much better, and she once more enjoys her nights in sweet sleep. She sits up all day, whereas she was only moved from one bed to another, for making and change. May God bless and cause you to live long, and bless with your remedies the thousands of poor invalids that are suffering for want of proper treatment."

STRONG TALK! READ THIS AND BE CONVINCED.

Mrs. Eliza Milroy, of Cranberry, Venango County, Penn., writes:

DEAR DOCTOR: I have used your medicine as directed, and am astonished at the wonderful cure it has performed in my case. Language is inadequate to express my sufferings before I commenced taking your medicine, and after suffering twenty-five years, I am now comparatively well. I attribute my very existence to your great professional skill—indeed, I owe you a debt of gratitude that I can never repay. I am prepared to say to the sick and afflicted, apply to Dr. Hamilton and he will give you comfort. In saying this from experience, I know whereof I affirm. May Heaven's best blessing ever be showered upon the greatest benefactor of his race, Prof. R. Leondas Hamilton. ELIZA MILLROY.

A CASE OF SICK HEADACHE CURED.

Mrs. Olive D. Fesdick, of Steuben, Marshall County, Ill., writes, Nov. 19:

"I had always been subject to sick headaches, and would be confined to my bed for two or more days every two or three weeks, until I commenced using your remedies. I feel that I am now about cured of that distressing disease. I have not been confined to my bed one whole day since last July, and have been generally able to attend to my daily labors. Please send another supply of your remedies, and may the blessings of God ever attend you."

A CASE OF DIARRHEA OF TWO YEARS' STANDING CURED.

Mr. J. B. Allen, Postmaster at Poll Grove, Wis., writes, Nov. 19:

"Your medicine I have received, and used as directed. Most of the time for two years previous to applying to you, I had suffered severely with diarrhea, and had tried most every remedy, but to no purpose. I have strong reasons to believe that your remedies will have the desired effect, as I am gaining finely."

STILL ANOTHER.

Mrs. Hannah Greene, of Van Buren, De Kalb County, Ill., writes, July 9:

Your package of medicine came duly to hand. I have taken it as directed, and am most happy to inform you that it has accomplished all that could be desired. My many aches and pains have all disappeared, as if magically, by the use of your invaluable remedies. My health is better than it has been for years. I do not think I shall need any more medicine. God bless you, doctor. May you always be as successful in other cases as you were in mine. With many kind wishes, yours ever, truly, HANNAH GREENE.

A CASE OF SALT RHEUM OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING CURED.

Mr. J. S. Woodard, of Hess Road, Niagara County, N. Y., under date of Dec. 12, writes:

"My father has been entirely cured of Salt Rheum on his leg of twenty years' standing by taking your medicines."

ANOTHER CASE OF CONSUMPTION CURED.

Mr. Wm. S. Blakeslee, of Windham Centre, Greene County, N. Y., writes:

"Five weeks ago my friends thought I was in the last stage of consumption. After taking your medicines for a few days I began to feel much better, and am now able to be around and attend to my business. I anticipate a permanent cure. I owe everything to you for your great wisdom in treating this disease, that has hitherto been considered incurable."

TAKE NOTICE.

All that wish for treatment or advice please answer the following questions by letter, and add any further information necessary to give me a full description of each case:

QUESTIONS.—Give your name, age, residence, occupation, married or single; have you headache, or dizziness, cough, asthma, loss of voice or hoarseness, catarrh, expectorate much, raise blood, fever or night sweats, sleepless or frightful dreams, chills, confined to bed or house, palpitation of heart, rheumatism, dropsy, nervous fits, palsy, dyspepsia, sickness, sourness, wind or distress of stomach, bilious, bowels regular, bloated or sore, costiveness, diarrhea, appetite good, poor or craving? are you thirsty? is the tongue coated? if so, what the color and appearance, or is it very dry and cracked? have you piles, fistula, gravel? urine scanty or otherwise? have you scrofula, cancer, or any humor? if so, how does it affect you? All sick persons must remember that if they wish to be put upon a course of treatment which will cure them, they can write and answer the above questions. I can, in every instance, prescribe for them just as well as though I saw them; for I have constantly thousands under my treatment in various parts of the world which I never see; all of whom I cure as speedily and safely as those I see in person; in fact, some of the best cures I ever made I have perfected in cases I never saw.

MAKE A NOTE OF THIS.

In conclusion, I will say to all who read this, and feel that they are in any way diseased, please be so kind as to write me a simple, full statement of your symptoms, and by return mail you will get a reply, with every information and advice necessary, free—only inclose stamps to pay postage. Do not delay, I beg of you, when a little delay may place you beyond all hope of a cure. I shall be plain and tell you the whole truth, and what you may depend upon, and whether you can or cannot be saved. Have no fear of revealing any secrets to me, for they are kept safe in my possession, free from the world.

I repeat, those who live at a distance and cannot see me in person, write me; I can prescribe and send remedies by mail or express to any part of the world. No danger in sending letters, or money in letters, for they always come safely and speedily to me. Please hand this to your friends and acquaintances who may be sick, thereby you may do much good and save valuable lives. Prevail on them to come and see me, or write to me at once.

Further, I wish in this place to inform those who may be inclined to doubt the truth and authenticity of any of the above testimonials, that I will give $1,000 to any person that can prove any of them false, having the original letters in my office, where any one can see them. I have also over twenty thousand just as good, which ought to satisfy the most skeptical that my assertions are based upon facts.

The undersigned would call attention to the following statement concerning these unequaled "Cabinet" Organs:

The Peloubet "Cabinet" Organs are the result of a series of elaborate and costly experiments, made during the past thirteen years, by Mr. C. Peloubet, formerly well known and celebrated as a maker of very superior wind instruments, flutes, clarionets, etc. Submitted to the public on their simple merits as musical instruments, these matchless "Cabinet" Organs have from the first been recognized by all who have ever fully tested them and understood their qualities as being superior to any others of their specified class. This has been demonstrated by the rapid increase in the demand for them, which has compelled the second enlargement very recently of "our extensive manufactory to double its previous capacity, and still the cry is, we have not half enough room, and shall soon quadruple our present manufactory."

Satisfied that the extensively circulated claims to superiority for their "Cabinet" Organs made by Mason & Hamlin, and that they had succeeded in producing an entirely "new musical instrument" were baseless assumptions, occasion was taken at the late Fair of the American Institute to place the Peloubet "Cabinet" Organs in direct competition with the much-vaunted "Cabinet" Organs above alluded to, for the purpose of securing a thorough and conclusive test of the comparative merits of the rival instruments to be sealed by the award of the American Institute. Tested in every legitimate way by the best organists and musicians, the Peloubet "Cabinet" Organs were pronounced to be superior in quality and volume of tone, and in number and variety of combinations. Critically examined by a jury selected from the best organ builders, organists and experts of Boston and New-York, they were, Oct. 19, 1865, unanimously awarded the first premium over ALL "Cabinet" Organs, while a silver medal only was given for the second best "Cabinet" Organs to our somewhat boastful competitors, thus confirming in the most authoritative way our own judgment and that of the public on the question of comparative merits. That this First Premium GOLD MEDAL Award was well deserved will be still more conclusively demonstrated by an examination of the annexed list of important improvements originated by Mr. Peloubet, and first used by him in his "Cabinet" Organs.

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALED

"CABINET" ORGANS.

1. Tuning in "equal temperament;" that is, making the chords of each key good; while, in the old methods, the more remote keys of B, D flat, A flat, &c., were scarcely endurable.
2. The use of a leather facing to the pallet, as a substitute for sticky and unreliable India-rubber before used, thus completing the true noiseless combination valve.
3. Putting more than two sets of reeds in a melodeon.
4. Introducing a wind chest and sound board separate and distinct from the bellows, by modifications of which, and by improvements in voicing, a greater variety of tone is produced.
5. In the manuals of large organs, making the diapason the basis of pitch instead of the bourdon.
6. Applied a forte stop to the pedal tones.
7. Introduced a second stop of 8 feet, in connection with the one of 16 feet in the pedals.
8. Built the first and only three-banked reed organs ever made.
9. Introduced the twelfth and fifteenth in reed organs.
10. Used but one wind chest, pallet, and action to each manual, thus securing simplicity, certainty of action, and economy.
11. Combining more than two sets of reeds in such an action.
12. Made small organs with 16-feet pedal.
13. Introduced the Tremolante Stop in small organs and melodeons.

These ingenious and truly admirable improvements secure great simplicity of construction and durability, together with an exquisite pipe-like smoothness and roundness of tone, a greater variety in the voicing of the different stops, and give pedal tones of greater purity and power than are to be found in any other reed organ.

PELOUBET & SON manufacture a greater variety of "Cabinet" Organs—that is, instruments of that class, having essential differences in their combinations—than any other firm producing this specific class of musical instruments.

These unequaled "Cabinet" Organs are better adapted for the parlor, churches, schools, concert halls, and for general musical purposes, than any other instruments of their particular class, and are furnished wholesale and retail by the undersigned, at moderate prices, with full warrantee.
